FIRST ESTIMATES WERE TOO LOW

Damage From Sleet Exceeds First Reports—Telephone Company Suffers Heavy Loss

I. & C. NOT OPERATING CARS

Phone Service May Not be Normal For Weeks as Many Poles And Wires Are Down

Damage from the sleet and snow of Wednesday night was even greater than first stated. First estimates of the damage were entirely too low and the loss to the city and county is the greatest in years. The local telephone company has not been hit so hard in recent years and it was stated by officials of the company that it might be a week before all of the lines were again in service.

Being cut off from the outside world resembled to some extent the flood days of 1913. This was especially true with the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company. Poles and wires were down all the way from here to Indianapolis. No attempt was made to establish service this morning to Indianapolis. The company hoped to have cars running to Indianapolis by evening although nothing definite could be promised. Local services was being maintained between here and Connersville.

The C. I. & W. maintained its service, but most of the trains were running behind their schedules. The other railroads operated trains today as usual and the train service was again about normal.

Wire service to the outside was almost completely demoralized. The telephone company was not yet able to get through to Indianapolis. A large force of workmen was employed on the long distance cables and it was believed some of the lines would be in working order by night. The telegraph company was more fortunate than the telephone company as it succeeded in getting service last night to some points.

Only one county line was in working order today. That was the line to Milroy, and the rest of the county exchanges were without service to Rushville. The city and county was exceedingly hard hit by this storm and the damage will run up into thousands of dollars.

The same conditions existed elsewhere in the state and especially in the surrounding counties. The I. & C. maintained only a local service between Shelbyville and Greensburg on the Shelbyville division. Telephone and wire trouble was reported from Connersville, Shelbyville and Newcastle.

CLAUDE L. POSTON IS DEAD

Relatives Receive Word of His Death in Denver, Colorado.

Word was received today of the death of Claude L. Poston in Denver, Col. Mr. Poston formerly lived here and was a son of the late Elias Poston of Noble township. He was well known here despite the fact that he left this city about twelve years ago. Mr. Poston visited here last summer. Mrs. Al Linville is a sister of Mr. Poston. His relatives here knew that he had been ill but did not know the exact extent of his sickness and because of this his death came as a surprise. He was 42 year old and the funeral will likely be held in Denver.

John O. Williams is suffering from la grippe.

MANY STREET LIGHTS OUT

Sleet Prevents Necessary Repairs as Pulleys Are Frozen.

As a result of the sleet a large number of street lights over the city are out of commission and numerous complaints have reached the water and light plant. Superintendent Mahan announced today that the lights would be repaired just as soon as the weather permitted. The pulleys holding the ropes by which the lights are raised and lowered are now frozen and it is impossible to get to the old lamps to replace them.

HEBER ALLEN DIES IN INDIANAPOLIS

Former Rushville Man Expires of Tuberculosis After Failure to Regain Health in West.

FUNERAL WILL BE ON FRIDAY

Heber Allen, age about 54 years, formerly a resident of this city, is dead at his home, 817 East Twenty-seventh street, Indianapolis, of tuberculosis and a complication of diseases. The funeral will be held at the home Friday afternoon at two o'clock and burial will take place in Crown Hill cemetery, Indianapolis. His death occurred at eight o'clock Tuesday morning and the news was received here today.

Mr. Allen left here two years ago last April and went to California for his health. When no improvement was noted, he returned to Indianapolis last January. He has been confined to his bed for the last year. Mr. Allen is survived by the widow and three daughters, the Misses Edna and Bess who live at home and Madge, of North Vernon.

For several years previous to his departure from Rushville, Mr. Allen was a city mail carrier. Before that he had been engaged most of his time as a printer, having been employed on both local newspapers. Mr. Allen was a Knight of Pythias and a member of the Presbyterian church. He was an accomplished musician and for years was a member of the Rushville band and local orchestra.

PENAL FARM SAVES MONEY FOR COUNTY

Cost of Transportation of Prisoners is Not as Great as Board Bill in Jail.

TEN SENT FROM RUSH COUNTY

Since the state penal farm was opened for prisoners Rush county has sent ten men there to serve sentences and in so doing it is believed that the county was saved a large sum of money as the county did not have to pay board for them at the county jail. This is especially true of prisoners sentenced to long terms.

The sheriff receives forty cents a day for boarding prisoners and as it costs $10.56 a trip to the penal farm for taking them there the county saves money on the transaction. The board and keep of the prisoners at the penal farm is paid by the state. The sheriff is allowed four cents a mile for himself and prisoner in making the trip to the farm and as the total costs to Rush county so far have amounted to $105.60, it is generally believed that Rush county has made money the past year by having the farm in operation.

IS OPTIMISTIC OVER OUTLOOK

James E. Watson, While in Seymour Says he Has Encouraging Reports of Candidacy.

HE PREDICTS G. O. P. VICTORY

Says it Will be in Nature of a Land-Slide For Many Democrats Will Help it Along

While in Seymour one day this week on the way to Crothersville to address a Knights of Pythias meeting, James E. Watson discussed politics briefly with a few friends and told them that he was certain that the Republican party would enjoy a sweeping victory in the election next November. His visit to Seymour was reported in the Seymour Republican as follows:

Soon after Mr. Watson reached the city he was surrounded by friends who were anxious to greet him. Although his mission to Jackson county today was not political, he was soon answering questions pertaining to the Indiana political situation.

That the Republican victory next spring will be a landslide was the prediction of the former congressman. "Everywhere I go I hear it," said Mr. Watson. He said that the Wilson administration had not been satisfactory to the Democrats themselves and he had been personally informed of hundreds of Democrats who would vote the Republican ticket in the next election.

In answer to a question concerning his own candidacy, Mr. Watson replied that he had received the most hopeful encouragement. He declared that he had not yet had time to visit all the counties in the state, but his friends were active in his behalf and he felt assured of success at the polls.

Mr. Watson talked at length concerning the new Indiana direct primary law and what it meant. He said that three bills had been presented at the last legislature and that at the final moments of the session paragraphs from all of them had been slapped together and approved by the legislature. As a result nobody knew exactly what the law meant and the public would have to await an interpretation by the Indiana supreme court. The law is now before that body and it has been intimated that a decision would be given on or before January 7.

The author of one part of the law, said Mr. Watson, placed one construction on the new law and his interpretation is questioned by another author. There is some question as to the significance of the preferential system of voting. Under the law first and second votes will be recorded if there are three candidates in the field. It is agreed that if any one candidate gets a majority he will be recognized as the candidate by the convention.

As to the value of the second choice votes there is a difference of opinion, said Mr. Watson. One construction is that they would be considered by the convention to ascertain the sentiment throughout the state in case no candidate is elected on first choice votes. Another view taken is that they must be considered in determining who gets the nomination in the primaries. The best lawyers in both parties in Indiana are unable to agree as to the meaning of the law, said Mr. Watson, and the decision of the supreme court is awaited.

Mr. Watson was optimistic about his candidacy. Before the primaries he intends to visit each of the ninety-two counties in the state.

VIEWS TREND WITH OPTIMISM

J. F. Wild, President of Indianapolis Stock Exchange, Comments on Monetary Matters

INCREASE FOR 1916 IS SEEN

While War Decrease Buying at First, Investors Have Found Themselves, He Declares.

J. F. Wild, President of the Indianapolis Stock Exchange and the oldest bond dealer in Indiana, views with optimism the present trend in monetary and security matters and believes business in all lines will nose out a marked increase in the year 1916. In his judgment the hardest blow the Indiana investment market ever sustained was the reflection in America of the world war, but that this has been entirely discounted he declares is shown by the upward movement in trading during the closing months of 1915. Millions are invested in Indiana municipal, industrial and corporation stocks and bonds every year and while the first eight months of the war greatly reduced buying in the Indiana market, in common with movements in the several states, buyers have found themselves, Mr. Wild declares, and the present scant offerings of all Indiana investment dealers reflects the course buyers are pursuing.

"Any bond issuing corporation is like an individual in that it cannot incur only a certain indebtedness," Mr. Wild says, "and for that reason when so many of the bond producing municipalities have reached the limit prescribed by law they have to shut down until they have retired some outstanding bonds. In Indiana at this time any number of the municipalities are up to the limit and as a result of this not as many new bond issues are appearing in the market. This fact alone would make for better business. Coupled with it, however, is the constant increase in Indiana taxes. A conservative buyer of securities always inquires whether or not his bond or stock is exempted from taxation. So much agitation has attended the matter of taxes in Indiana and the rate is increasing year to year that it is no wonder that the buyer wants the law on his side and prefers not to take a chance with the tax ferret.

"Tax levying is one of the oldest and wisest methods of a state raising money. That it is far from a correct system is the claim of many who feel keenly its burden every year. Indiana perhaps should have some corrections to its present taxation plans, but as long as the law is as it stands now it is an unsafe policy to try to avoid it. The man who in years past has never differentiated between taxable and non-taxable issues will likely find it to his interest to watch this matter closely. Merely buying taxable securities and locking them in a safety deposit box and not listing them for taxes is no longer a wise or strictly honest policy to adopt. The plan is certain to get the owner in trouble sooner or later. The way to get taxes lower in Indiana certainly does not lie in tax dodging.

"Speaking directly of the movement of Indiana stocks and bonds during 1915 there is no question but that prices are generally on a higher plane than a year ago and there is nothing to warrant the belief that the crest of the movement has yet been reached. One year ago some of our municipalities were at a standstill on a much higher yielding rate than they are at today and now they are not plentiful enough to fill the demand at the jump in prices. ## ONE MORE DAY FOR SALOONS

Final Rush For "Wet" Goods is on in Colorado

(By United Press.)

Denver, Colo., Dec. 30.—Colorado's saloons and liquor stores, to be closed by law after tomorrow night, enjoyed great and final prosperity today. Customers were taking home supplies for the expected long dry spell. There were many joblot bargains of beer, wines and whiskies. After tomorrow liquor can be bought in Colorado only on a physician's prescription or imported for private home consumption. The state had 1600 saloons.

One of the saloon keepers forced to close up is the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company owned by John D. Rockefeller. Their mining camp saloons will be forced out with the rest.

DEATH COMES TO JEREMIAH HEANEY

Well Known Cigar Maker Succumbs at Madison Asylum Where he Had Been Past 6 Months.

FUNERAL FRIDAY MORNING

Jeremiah J. Heaney, 49 years old, a well known cigar maker of this city, died Tuesday night at the Madison asylum, where he had been for the past six months. News of his death was delayed because of wire trouble, occasioned by the storm of Wednesday night. Jerry Heaney had been in ill health for the past two years although his death came as a surprise to his relatives here.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Heaney, one brother, John Heaney and three sisters, Mrs. Nathan Horr, Mrs. Thomas Kirk and James C. Boyce of Fort Wayne. The remains will arrive here this evening and will be taken to the home of his mother, 618 West Third street.

The funeral services will be conducted Friday morning at nine o'clock at the St. Mary's Catholic church and burial will take place in Calvary cemetery.

TWO CANDIDATES OUT FOR SHERIFF

Ezeziel M. Jones and Rex Innis Throw Their Hats in the Ring—Others Expected.

PRIMARY TO FREE-FOR-ALL

Avowed candidates for county offices on the Republican ticket are now coming thick and fast. Two candidates for sheriff announced today. They were Ezekiel M. Jones of Ripley township and Rex Innis of Anderson township. Mr. Jones' announcement appears elsewhere in this issue of the Daily Republican. Mr. Innis was in the city today and told of his intentions by passing out candidate cards.

A large number of candidates have been mentioned for sheriff but thus far these two are the only avowed candidates. It is understood that J. K. Jameson and Noah Tryon will also enter the race and the fight for the nomination of sheriff promises to be a warm one.

Other candidates who have announced themselves are George B. Moore, Jr., who is a candidate for clerk of the circuit court and Will McMillin, who would be the candidate for county auditor.

PROSPECTS FOR 1916 ARE BRIGHT

Year Which Will Soon Make Its Debut but is Expected to Bring Much of Value to Rushville.

1915 SEES IMPROVEMENTS

Plans For Some Paved Streets and Erection of Many Residences Makes it Eventful One.

The year 1915 has seen marked advancement in many lines in Rushville and prospects for the approaching year seem especially bright.

While there have not been so many new buildings and improvements in the business district, the improvement in this branch of activity has been steady and has revealed a healthy growth.

Outstanding among the expected developments of 1916 will be the remodeling of the north half of the old Commercial block into a modern and up-to-date business block. It was only a short time ago that George C. Wyatt & Company announced the purchase of the three business rooms in the old block. They will be fashioned into one of the most attractive business rooms in Rushville and will house one of the oldest firms in business here.

The year 1915 saw the beginning and near completion of the home of the Twentieth Century Dry Cleaners, a practically new firm composed of Mayor C. L. Bebout and Former County Commissioner Merrill Ball. The Twentieth Century Dry Cleaners organized a little less than two years ago and have built up a fine business. Since the inception of the business, it has been housed in a small building back of the Green building in Second street and in a room for pressing and repairing back of Betker's Shop. With the completion of the new building, which is being erected on the alley directly back of the Elks club, the concern will be under one roof. All of the equipment will be the most modern that can be purchased for that business. The Twentieth Century Dry Cleaners hope to be in their new home by February 1 at the latest.

Probably more marked advancement has been noted in the residence district of Rushville than in the business section. There has been more building activity in the Stewart & Tompkins addition than elsewhere, but at the same time many a vacant lot in the city that has been an eyesore to the neighborhood in which it was located has been converted into a beautiful home site.

There are now thirty-one houses in the Stewart & Tompkins addition. When Ben A. Cox completed his home in North Perkins street in that addition, there were just two other homes there, and one of them had been moved to that location. Mr. Cox's

The Rummage Sales

Christmas week is a week of energetic merchandising.

The stores find the busiest season over and another heavy buying period ahead.

And in the few days in between — the holidays — they must right stocks.

And in addition must provide the novelties desired at this season of the year.

So from every angle of observation the stores are most interesting places to visit.

And the best ones to see are described in the advertising columns of The Daily Republican.

Internment Problem For German
Subjects is Solved by England
750 in the Camp

HAS MANY UNIQUE FEATURES

Brought About Following Sinking of Lusitania, Causing Riots And
Other Disturbances

By WILBUR S. FORREST
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Dec. (By Mail).—When a German torpedo destroyed the Lusitania May 7, causing riots and the subsequent wholesale internment of enemy aliens, England kept its solution of difficult internment problem strictly secret. After seven months the United Press is able today, through the courtesy of the War Office, to tell the story for the first time.

British leniency and German thoroughness have co-operated to make England's enemy internment business a positive success. Five London Bobbies and a ten foot fence of American barbed wire guard 750 of the Kaiser's military eligibles at Islington, North London. Inside a great central building and auxiliary structures which in ante-bellum days composed a municipal refuge for the poor, is today a model system of self government where 750 "citizens" have worked out their own restricted salvation for the duration of the war.

Take note of the Germans you would meet on the streets of Milwaukee, St. Louis or Cincinnati and you would know the appearance of the personnel at Islington. Almost all these were business heads, clerks, bakers, butchers, barbers, cabinet-makers, bookbinders or tradesmen in London before the Lusitania riots. In May hundreds of them were bundled up and sent to Islington, away from harm and mischief.

The 750 were placed in charge of Major Halladay, who has seen service in India. He divided the internees into units of between 30 and 40 and instructed each group to elect its captain. The captains met and elected a Captain of Captains, a wealthy Prussian business man of London before the war. Presided over by this dignitary, a council of captains is held daily to adjudicate disputes, consider claims and administer business. If judgment of this body is unsatisfactory the case may be passed to Major Halladay.

The latest internee at Islington is a German merchant, enjoying an income of $125,000 a year. He was unable to secure one of the few private rooms reserved at $3.60 per week because other internees had taken them. He appealed to the council of captains. The democratic spirit of this unique tribunal asserted itself and the applicant was politely informed that his $3.60 was no better than anyone's in Islington's "Germany." He appealed to Major Halladay. The Major replied that he felt compelled to abide by the decision of the lower court.

The wealthy citizen was forced to occupy regulation quarters. These quarters, in the main building, are ample. They consist of high walled, well ventilated rooms, where from eight to fifteen sanitary couches are ranged along the walls. On each is a mattress, blankets and pillow. These together with general lavatories, washrooms and bathrooms on every floor, make this internment camp more like a well planned hotel. Large day rooms where visitors may be entertained, a commodious yard with a rain shelter, workshops, a tennis court, dining rooms and tea rooms, make it unnecessary for the men to occupy their sleeping quarters during daylight.

Afternoon tea is a daily event. Here is the routine: Arise at eight; breakfast at 8:30; work, study or diversion until noon (working is optional but hundreds are busy at various tasks under supervision of the Council of Captains: dinner at 12; work, of entertaining wives and children until five; tea with trimmings, 5 to 5:30; supper at 7; to bed at nine.

Other unique features are: Unrestricted smoking, except in wood-working shop, bi-monthly theatricals; a weekly paper printed in English; privilege of writing two letters each week in German, to Germany or elsewhere; opportunity of leaving the premises, under guard, for medical treatment, teetotalism.

All citizens of the Islington camp are married, hundreds of them to British wives. Each man is allowed to see his family once in 8 days for 30 minutes. When the United Press man arrived forty families were strolling about the enclosure. Many families live now near the camp of their husbands or brother. Every wife, if in want, receives a grant of $2.76 per week with an additional 36 cents for every child.

When an enemy alien reaches Islington he deposits his cash with the commandant and keeps $5 to $10. This pocket change circulates rapidly. A laundry, manned by internees furnishes clean linen at twelve cents a week. There is a four-chair barbershop where shaves cost four cents in the morning and two cents in the afternoon, on the systematic German version that it is worth more to be shaved up all day than half a day. A former delikatessen shop owner of Houndslow, sells genuine German liverwurst, and other Teuton palate ticklers; there are woodshops where experts, at making Christmas toys for their children. These child delights are not stamped Made in Germany, but they bear the stamp of perfect workmanship. Another shop turns out fancy toilet requisites for the wife's Christmas which she may sell. Another is making wood-inlay work. A large bakery daily turns out material and equipment.

"The plan co-operation allows the government to feed the men at an average cost of 1.08 a week," said the commandant. "The food is wholesome and good. Our kitchen is manned by Germans who know how to cook and economize. Scores of our men are learning Spanish. German far sightedness tells them that England will not be the place for a German's business for some time after peace is declared. Many have told me they are going to South America. Not one man has attempted to escape."

The only essential that Islington's model community lacks is a dentist and he will be intended within a few days, drill, forceps, chair and all.

EXPECT SHEA WILL GET APPOINTMENT

Known That President Looks Favorably Upon Him For Ambassadorship to Chile.

NAME TO BE SENT TO SENATE

Hot Springs, Va., Dec. 30.—The pleasures of honeymooning have left President Wilson little time to consider the appointment of an ambassador to Chile but it is known that Judge Thomas Shea of the Indiana Appellate court has been spoken of favorably to the chief executive.

Before the president's departure on his wedding trip Senator Kern conferred with him and it is known that Judge Shea was suggested as a candidate for the Chilean post. No other Indianian is in line for the job and it is generally believed by those close to the chief executive that his name will be sent to the senate.

Amusements

The Gem will show a two reel feature "The Mistle of Jerry McGuire" for the first picture tonight. It is one of the series of pictures in which Helen Holmes is featured. In this one she jumps from an automobile onto a moving train. It is said to be a sensational drama. The other picture is a comedy entitled "Cupid and the Scrub Lady." Alice Howell is featured. Tomorrow matinee and night "The Queen of Hearts," a three reel feature will be shown. Herbert Rawlinson, William Worthington and Anna Little are featured.

The Princess offers the big comedy "A Night at the Show" for the first picture of tonight's program. Charles Chaplin is featured and it is one of those famous comedies such as Chaplin makes. The other picture is a two act drama "The Woman in the Box." It tells a clever detective story.

"The Master Hand," featuring Nat C. Goodwin comes to the Princess Friday matinee and night. "The Master Hand" is based on the play of the same name by Carroll Fleming. Nat Goodwin is the "good angel" of the story—a big-hearted, benevolent man of affairs whose mission in life seems to straighten out other people's troubles and make them happy. Nat C. Goodwin has a strong and lovable part in the play. There are tremendously exciting scenes in Wall street; and the part of the sinister woman doctor is a decidedly strong one. Some very pleasing children's scenes lend bright relief to the drama. And a very big and handsome dog will surely be a favorite with the audience. The auto accident is strikingly realistic. Its powerful acting, its thrills, excitement, surprises and intense human interest will no doubt hold the attention to the last.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

To-morrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal. Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

STORIES FROM WAR FRONT

WHAT'S YOUR FAVORITE?

(Carthage Citizen.)

Down at White's Hardware store the other day an argument arose from extolling the eating qualities of certain kinds of apples. The plaintiffs, defendants and judges taking part were Frank Reddick, Jeff Addison, Noah Whitaker, Milt Herkless, Charlie White, William Phelps and William Moore, and others. Some said Grimes' Golden was the best eating; some said Roman Stem; others stoutly defended Vandivers and White Pippins. It was a deadlock.

Forthwith emissaries were sent out to procure specimens. After liberally sampling the same, the following results was announced: Vandiver, 1st prize; Roman Stem 2nd; Grimes' 3d; White Pippin 4th. What is your favorite?

Greetings*TO OUR FRIENDS AND PATRONS:

In plain and simple language, and with each word pregnant with truth and sincerity, we offer you the compliments of the season and tender you our thanks for your goodness to us during the past year.

Your support has been generous to a degree, even beyond our fondest expectations, and your many kind words conveyed to us have been an inspiration and have served as an impetus in many weary hours of toil.

Again we greet you, and express the wish that the new year about to be born may be one of great prosperity, contentment and happiness to you and to those who are dear to you.

Problems of The Year

We are face to face with the problems of another year. It may bring us much or little, as we choose. The question is, what do we choose? In the parlance of the street, "it is up to us."

One thing we need is greater commercial activity. But how are we to promote it?

We need a closer community of interests between the farmer and his family and the town man and his family. In many ways each is dependent upon the good will of the other, but few of us seem to realize this.

In years past farmers have been shopping their products away to market in small quantities and realizing small profits while the rapacious middlemen have rolled in gold that should have found its way back to the farms. And the loss to the farmer is likewise a loss to the town and the community in general.

We should not permit another year to go by without remedying this glaring defect in our system. It can be done.

The business men of this town should all get together and devise some method whereby they can market the products of all of the farmers quickly, economically, and without the aid of so many hungry go-betweens. It may take a little brain work, and a trip or two to some central market in order to put the scheme into practical working order, but it can be done if it is undertaken in the right spirit.

When the business men look after the interests of the farmers in this respect the farmers will reciprocate by giving them the immense volume of their business that is now going to other sources.

An agricultural clearing house is needed. The new year should be a movement on foot for its establishment, and the end of the year should see it in practical and successful working order and with everybody happy and satisfied.

Too many of us strangers to each other in this community, where we should all be brothers and dwell together in unity for the common good of all.

And that is because there are entirely too many hard and fast cliques and sets, with each immersed in its own shell and never a peep at the light of outer day.

We need a common ground for meeting, where neighbor greets neighbor and the stranger finds himself at home and among friends.

If co-operation is good in commercial affairs it would be of equal benefit in private and social life. It would afford us a more intimate knowledge of humanity and a broader prospective of life, and the resultant spirit of good fellowship would be felt in a thousand ways.

A year of "getting together" would stamp a wonderful imprint upon the heart, the soul and the conscience of this community.

We can materially benefit Rushville and our farming community if we begin right now to make it a year of production and prosperity.

It would be difficult to find one among us who could not in some manner increase the result of his labors during the coming year, and with each of us persevering to this end the year's profits would mount high in the financial column of local history.

While considering our own individual interests we might dwell also upon those of the community in which we dwell, for what is of value to all of the people is of equal value to us.

But we can without detriment, or inconvenience, or expense at least remember that we are all neighbors, and friends, and brothers, and so act one to the other, to the end that peace, harmony and happiness may be our lot for the coming year.

Severe Competition

P. L. Guiterman, of Guiterman, Rosenfeld & Co., New York, importers and exporters, returned from abroad recently. He advises American manufacturers and merchants who hope for a continuance of a large export trade when European war is over that they will be obliged to contend with severe competition on the part of Japanese producers, who are imitating German products and selling them at low prices in Russia, England, and other countries. "The Japanese manufacturers," says Mr. Guiterman, "have already been clever enough to get hold of any quantity of German samples in various lines, and they are imitating these exactly and offering them to England at prices, in many instances as low as, or even lower than formerly paid to German factories."

Investigations of the Chamberlain British tariff commission made a few years ago developed the fact that, on an average the wage scale in Japan and other oriental countries was one-sixth that of England. And the English wage scale is less than one-half that of England. And the English wage scale is less than one-half that of the United States. As two-thirds the cost of producing merchandise in the United States is paid to labor, what suggestion have our Democratic friends to make in regard to competing with a country whose wage scale is less than one-twelfth of our own?

What Will it Bring?

A New Year!

What will it bring to your country? Will it bring us a continuation of that great peace which Providence has thus far bestowed upon us?

Will it blaze for us a highway through the network of entanglements which have drenched the soil of half the world with the life blood of thousands upon thousands of the most intelligent and enlightened peoples of all times?

Will there be a bright and shining star to lead us safely through the appalling perils that now beset the earth?

Or will the new year visit upon us the withering blight of war, and pestilence, and famine, and extermination?

Will the sweet music of the humming wheels of industry and the joyful notes of glad voices raised in song be replaced by the roar of cannon, and the shriek of shells, and the bursting of bombs, and the groans of the maimed, and the mutilated, and the dying?

Which will it be?

If we only knew!

Having ushered the 1916 infant into the world without mishap, we may now turn our attention to discoursing on the merits of the European Folly.

May the new year bring you happiness, a full pocketbook, and a wife—if you haven't one. But in 1916 you may have no trouble on that score.

A contemporary says the day of the political grandstander and four-flusher is gone by. But the grandstander and the four-flusher still remain.

A defeated candidate can always console himself with the thought that "the people never know their own minds, anyway."

Chicago is making trousers for Europe. Let us hope it will not fall to the lot of the widows and orphans to use them.

Now that the wheels of industry are beginning to turn, perhaps those in our head will be given a rest.

What use has this country for heavy siege cannon? Haven't we got our "Uncle Joe?"

1916—Get it right.

Newspaper Comment on Watson Candidacy*No Man More Loyal.

(Greenfield Republican.)

No man in Indiana has been more loyal to his party than James E. Watson. He has met with disappointments, and has not always received what he has wanted, but he has never sulked, but has always been found in the thickest of the campaign fights for the Republican party.

Well Qualified.

(Greenfield Republican.)

James E. Watson, of Rushville, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, is a man every way qualified for the position. He is in the United States senate class. His name ranks well with the names of Benjamin Harrison, Oliver P. Morton, Charles W. Fairbanks and Albert J. Beveridge. He far outclasses John W. Kern, whom the Democrats will nominate. As senator he would represent Indiana in a noteworthy manner, that would reflect honor on the state. He is personally a most clever, congenial gentleman, and a campaigner with no superiors and only very few equals. No man in Indiana of any political party has done more for his party in the way of advocacy than he. He stands in the front rank of the advocates of a protective tariff, and he believes in the principles of the Republican party as he does in the flag and constitution of the United States. Clever as he is; able as he is; orthodox as he is; sponsor for Republican principles as he is, who can justly say aught against Mr. Watson's claim for the recognition he seeks at this time? Any Republican may owe obligations to some other candidate, and may properly support them, but he should not be against James E. Watson. Watson is too sound on Republican principles and too true a party man for Republicans to be against him.

Old Campaign Recalled.

(Greensburg Review.)

The coming of James E. Watson into Decatur county today recalls his first campaign here a little over twenty-one years ago when he beat Holman. By a peculiar coincidence Rush and Decatur county each gave Mr. Watson that election the same plurality—732. But Decatur county was so anxious to go ahead of Rush that it is said the returning board, Democrats and Republicans alike, agreed to change one figure that made Watson's majority 733 and putting our county one ahead of Rush. Watson's plurality in the district was 432. So each county could claim the honor of electing him.

HOOSIER HISTORY

(Prepared for the United Press by the Centennial Department of the Indiana Historical Commission.)

Morgan's Career in Indiana

With a dashing, reckless bravado, Morgan headed straight north from Corydon to Salem. Thence north-east through Scott county to Vernon which he found prepared and which he dared not attack. Turning southeast into Jefferson county, his men appropriated the choice cuts of a meat packing establishment, whence the raiders made their way across the state line into Ohio, after almost a week of strenuous riding and fighting in Indiana. Two weeks later he was captured with the remnant of his command of some two hundred and fifty men on the eastern border of Ohio.

MOTORCYCLE CLUB

A number of the progressive young motorcycle riders of the city have organized a Motorcycle Club. Although they have had only a few meetings, plans are already organized for several long trips to be made next summer. The membership, though not complete now at present includes the following boys: Bruce Carr, Wilbur Snodgrass, Ray Dye, Morris Howe and Carl Major.

OPENS WAY FOR STRINGENT LAWS

Opinion on Taxation by Justice Hughes of Supreme Court is Expected to Help States.

ON THE TAXATION QUESTION

Will Pave Path For States to Enact More Drastic Laws Than Have Been Held Constitutional.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
 Washington, D. C., Dec. 24.—What is a tax? Here is a little essay on taxation by Justice Charles E. Hughes of the United States Supreme court. He delivered it recently from the bench in a small case from Missouri—Houck vs. Little River Drainage district. It appears to open the way for the enactment of more drastic state taxation laws by states that have hitherto been held constitutional.

"A tax is an enforced contribution for the payment of public expenses. It is laid by some rule of apportionment according to which the person or property taxed share the public burden, and whether taxation operates upon all within the state, or upon those of a given class or locality, its essential nature is the same. The power of segregation for taxing purposes has everyday illustration in the experiences of local communities, the members of which by reason of their membership, or the owners of property within the bounds of their political subdivision, are compelled to bear the burdens both of the successes and of the failures of local administration. Then local improvement may be deemed to result in special benefits, a further classification may be made and special assessments imposed accordingly, but even in such cases there is no requirement of the Federal constitution that for every payment there must be an equal benefit. The State in its discretion may lay such assessments in proportion to position, frontage, area, market value or to benefits estimated by commissioners. And as we have said, unless the exaction is a flagrant abuse, and by reason of its arbitrary character is mere confiscation of property, it can not be maintained that the state has exceeded its taxing power."

TODAY'S HOOSIER ODDITY

Hartford City, Dec. 30.—"Never look a gift horse in the mouth," said Otis Holmes, local drayman, as he prepared to retire from active business here. Holmes was at one time the janitor of a big office building here. A lawyer in the building jokingly offered him one thousand shares of mining stock considered worthless then, as a Christmas present. He accepted the shares and had them legally transferred. A few days ago he received a letter from the attorneys saying the stock was valued at $10,000.

CIVILIAN POPULATION BEING SHOCKED TO DEATH

By WILBUR S. FORREST
 (U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Nov. 30. (By Mail).—Ravages of war on Great Britain's peaceful civilian population sums up 77,000 fewer babies and more than 50,000 additional deaths as compared with the peaceful year of 1913, according to statistics available today. Seventeen thousand fewer babies than in 1913 have been born in the County of London. In Greater London, which includes contiguous suburbs, there is a birth decrease of 25,000 within the year while 15,000 more civilians than normally have died. London's outer rings, which includes cities not properly termed suburbs, has had 8,000 fewer infants and 5,000 more deaths than in 1913. Birmingham, Liverpool, Manchester, Sheffield, Dublin, Edinburgh and Glasgow also are affected. In addition to the babes unborn, the United Kingdom's frightful infant mortality, indirectly due to the war, is mounting. Public efforts have been instituted to combat the latter condition, but the fall in the birth rate is regarded as an evil directly attributable to the general devastating influence of war. The excess of civilian mortality is ascribed by the medical authorities to the excitement of the war and resultant consumption, cerebral hemorrhage and heart disease, principally the latter, superinduced by worry and shock. The majority of civilian war victims is persons more than fifty years of age. Four hundred such deaths occurred in London during the single week ending November 20. Figures on the birth and mortality rates in Berlin, the next greatest European war city, show that the German capital is losing civilians at the rate of 400 a week. The birth rate is more than 400 less a week than normally. Hamburg, Cologne, Breslau and other German cities also are suffering natural death far in excess of the birth rate. Vienna reports indicate that the Austrian capital is losing 400 citizens a week, either through death or non-existent maternity. Births in Paris are about 390 a week as against 800 normally. The weekly civilian death rate has not been officially computed. What all belligerent nations and cities have suffered in civilian citizenship losses proportionately, out of the estimated 9,000,000 military casualties of the world war to date, can be accurately estimated only after peace is declared.

Notice of Non-Resident.

The State of Indiana, Rush County, In the Rush Circuit Court, November Term, 1915.

Now comes the plaintiffs, by Goddard & Craig and Young & Young, their attorneys, and file their complaint herein, together with an affidavit by Sylvester C. Kirkpatrick that said defendant, Mergenthaler Linotype Company of New York City, New York, is not a resident of the State of Indiana; that said action is for Foreclosure of Chattel Mortgage and for Receiver, and that said non-resident defendant is a necessary party thereto.

Notice is therefore hereby given said defendant, last named, that unless it be and appear on the 67th judicial day of the November term of the Rush Circuit Court to be holden on the 5th Monday of January, A. D., 1916, at the court house in Rushville in said county and state, and answer or demur to said complaint, the same will be heard and determined in its absence.

Witness my name and the Seal of said Court, affixed at Rushville, this 9th day of December, A. D., 1915.

(Seal) ARIE M. TAYLOR,

Dec 9-16-23-30 Clerk.

PROSPECTS FOR 1916 ARE BRIGHT

home was completed July 22, 1912 and since that time new and modern homes have been completed very fast. There were more built during the year just closing than any year previous, which has caused that section of the city to become most desirable. Several blocks of cement walks have already been installed in the addition and many more are planned. In the spring cement streets will be built in Perkins street above eleventh.

In this connection, it should be remembered that the year just about to make its exit witnessed the beginning of plans to pave First street. Engineers plans and specifications have been prepared and activity along this line may be expected just as soon as spring weather opens. First street probably needs paving worse than any street in Rushville because of the condition of the street and because of the heavy travel to the railroad district of the city and from the country because First street joins the business section with one of the main trunk lines leading into Rushville.

Probably the most valuable addition to Rushville's public buildings during the year now closing was the Graham Annex school building. It is a structure that all people of Rushville and Rush county, for that matter, are proud of. It contains an up-to-date gymnasium and an auditorium that accommodates the needs of Rushville for public entertainments.

There are many things that progressive citizens of Rushville would like to see Rushville put in their stocking for next Christmas. There is none who would not like to see more paved streets, because they are more satisfactory and are cheaper in the end.

The need of a coliseum down town that would be suitable for all public gatherings has been felt here for years. It has been frequently suggested that the city erect a city hall housing a coliseum, it is the fervent hope of loyal residents of Rushville that something of this nature will see its inception in the year 1916.

The year 1916, it is earnestly hoped, may witness the beginning of the work to extend the Indianapolis & Cincinnati traction line from this city to Cincinnati. I have been reported recently that prospects for this improvement which means so much to Rushville and southeastern Rush county are exceedingly hopeful. More factories are among the things most desired of the year 1916. They are always acceptable and may be located by the united effort of Rushville business men working with the Chamber of Commerce organization.

A Carnegie library building to house the present, efficient Rushville library is one of the possibilities of the approaching year. There are those who have long desired an artistic building for the library, but the proper effort has never been put forth. It is advocated by many that a Carnegie library could be supported with little more cost and besides the building would be a valuable addition to Rushville's public structures.

A big centennial celebration during the coming year is another of the things for which Rushville will undoubtedly extend herself. The coming year will mark the century mark in the life of Indiana and a celebration by counties is one of the things in the plan of observance.

Another improvement that 1916 will bring is the conversion of the Graham Annex into sort of a community center. Plans are being prepared to keep the gymnasium open at nights and arrange for gymnasium classes. The new auditorium in the Graham Annex is a valuable addition to the community's social life and will be the scene of many local entertainments during the year. The installation of a moving picture machine in the auditorium will be held here for the first time in 1916 and the various forces interested in it will combine to make it a success. A big farmers banquet, another new thing here, will take place Wednesday evening, January 26, and all energies are being turned to that.

Stomach Misery Quickly Vanisher

Your money back if you want it is the way in which Johnson's Drug Store the popular druggist are selling Mio-na, the great dyspepsia remedy.

This is an unusual plan, but Mio-na has so much merit and is so almost invariably successful in relieving all forms of indigestion that they run but little risk in selling under a guarantee of this kind.

Do not be miserable or make your friends miserable with your dyspepsia. Mio-na will help you. If it doesn't tell Johnson's Drug Store you want your money back and he will cheerfully refund it.

A change for the better will be seen from the first few doses of Mio-na and its continued use will soon start you on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food.

Mio-na has been so uniformly successful that every box is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. What fairer proposition could be made?

Johnson's Drug Store give their personal guarantee of "money back if you want it," with every box of Mio-na that they sell. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

LEAP YEAR PARTY

First of the leap year parties was the very pleasant one given last evening by the members of the Always Present Class of girls of the Main Street Christian Church for their gentlemen friends. "Pop" reigned supreme and the gay young people entered into the merry round of games with enthusiasm. Miss Charlotte Norris added to the social hour with several beautiful piano selections. The "beauty" contest resulted in Miss Marie Turner receiving a box of candy for being the prettiest girl present and Halbert Brown received one for being the handsomest man there. Sandwiches, hot chocolate, and wafers were served at the close of the evening. The hostesses and their guests were as follows: The Misses Wilna Beaver, who is the capable president of the class, Gertrude Wilkinson, Gladys Chadwick, Charlotte Norris, Laverne Davis, Leota Mull, Dean Thompson, Agnes and Esther Foster, Velvia Phillips, Mildred Wolters, Erema Offutt, Ruth Champion, Marie Turner, and Marion Humphrey, Paul Davidson, Harold Perkins, Halbert Brown, Wilbur Snodgrass, Verl Bebout, Herbert Walker, Frank Muire, Vernon Spivey, Edward Meridith, Parker Willy, Charles Frazier, and Morris Howell. The guests welcomed with great pleasure Miss Dean Thompson, a former member of the class, who has been in Indianapolis for an extended visit.

KAPPA SIGMA DANCE.

The Kappa Sig dance given in Newcastle Tuesday evening was enjoyed by a number of dancers who are well known here. Miss Alleine Budd of this city was among them. The following account is from the Newcastle Courier:

One of the brilliant celebrations of holiday week was the Kappa Sigma Home Town dance Tuesday evening at the Moose hall. About thirty couples were in attendance and enjoyed one of the most delightful events of the winter. Gorgeous decorations lent a gala air to the holiday scene. The dominant note in the decorations was the fraternity colors, red, white, and green. The curtains were hung with overdrapes in the prevailing hues, and one corner of the room was transformed into a cozy bower with banks of greenery and red roses. On the walls hung artistic leather skins on which were emblazoned the fraternity emblems. The Schuman orchestra of Muncie furnished the music for a delightful program of dances. The programs were unusually clever. The cover was embossed with the fraternity crest and each dance was dedicated to a member of the organization. Out-of-city guests here for the affair were Misses Vivian Vestal of Anderson, Alleine Budd of Rushville, Messrs. Frank Brant, Willard Hughes of Hagerstown, Fred C. McAdams of Lafayette, George Dunn of Richmond and Glenn Woodward and Clyde Snoddy of Bloomington.

The local Kappa Sigmas are Messrs. George Jeffrey of the University of Virginia; Eugene Thompson, John Muller and William Marsh of Purdue University; Russell Strain of Wabash College; Don Mourer, Max Hutzell and James Boyd of the University of Michigan; Richard Beach and David H. Jennings of the University of Wisconsin; Karl Froderick, Dan Hess, Byron Post, William Loer and Claude Bolser of Indiana University.

HOUSEPARTY.

The three charming girls of whom Rushville is justly proud who are attending the Huntington houseparty, as guests of Miss Lillian Bell, are the Misses Lois Reeves, Dorothy Mulno, and Dorothy Sparks. The following clippings from the Huntington Herald Dispatch show that they are being royally entertained by the friends of their hostess:

Miss Fay Douthit and Miss Marjorie Cundiff will honor Miss Lillian Bell and trio of charming guests with a dinner party this evening at the home of Miss Cundiff with covers laid for sixteen.

Miss Mabel Adams will be one of the week's pleasant hostesses, entertaining on Thursday afternoon a party of friends for the pictures.

Miss Margaret Moore and Miss Lois Olmsted have issued verbal invitations for a tea on Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Moore, in Sixth street, which will add a delightful feature to the week's social affairs.

As an aftermath to the pleasant tea given on Monday afternoon, Miss Lillian Bell, with her guests Miss Dorothy Mulno, Mr. Dennis Richardson, Miss Lois Reeves, Mr. Ivan Mynes, Miss Dorothy Sparks, Mr. Fred Temple and Bradley Workman spent the evening at the moving pictures.

Miss Alene Stevens added another courtesy for Miss Lillian Bell and guests, entertaining a delightful party for the moving pictures, which was followed by a prettily appointed luncheon, served later at her home, on Tuesday evening. The invitation list included Miss Bell, Frank McAlhatten, Miss Dorothy Sparks, Howard Hawkins, Miss Lois Reeves, Dayton Carter.

SPARKS-EUBANK DINNER.

The holiday week is always filled to overflowing with dances, dinners, and parties, but this one has been especially so. Prominent in the week's festivities, are the college students, home from their various universities for the holidays. The dinner last evening was composed largely of these home-corners, when complimentary to her house guest, Miss Rosaline Gant, of Greenfield, Miss Marian Sparks, assisted by Miss Ramona Eubank entertained in a most charming manner.

The cheery Christmas decorations and the warm welcome fairly reflected the holiday spirit in the Sparks home. The center of the dining table was adorned with a graceful fern around the base of which green crepe paper was tied with a red satin ribbon. Tall, slender mahogany candle sticks held the numerous Christmas candles, shaded by their artistic shades, which were also on the table. Beneath these, and the water glasses, were dainty green doliies. The handsome electric dome above the table was shaded by green shades and draped gracefully with green paper. A bow of satin ribbons, representing the college colors of the girl whose place they marked, were tied in the corner of each of the dainty little place cards, painted to suggest the Yuletide. Three courses were served in the appetizing dinner.

An impromptu program was furnished by the guests after the dinner. Miss Gertrude Green, who is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Green from Indianapolis, showed her marked ability in reading by giving several selections, "The Mule Story," "He Wasn't Necessary," and "The Egyptian Vase," all were enjoyed and appreciated by guests. The solos sung by Miss Marian Scholl, and the piano solos by the Misses Jean McClanahan, Gladys Wallace, and Ruth Innis helped to make the evening a merry one.

Aside from the two hostesses, eleven guests were present including the Misses Mary Carr, Gladys Wallace, Dorothy Thomas, Marguerite Wolcott, Gladys Green, of Indianapolis, Rosaline Gant, of Greenfield, Beatrice Reeves, Ruth Innis, Madeline Lord, of Seford, Del., Marian Scholl, and Jean McClanahan.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 30.—Charles W. Fairbanks was put into the presidential race by Indiana Republicans at the love feast here today. Thousands gathered from all parts of the state. Edward P. Morrow of Kentucky put Fairbanks' name up and a great demonstration followed. Mr. Fairbanks responded with a five-minute speech in which he urged not only national military preparedness but industrial preparedness as a step toward world trade. He predicted Republican success in the coming campaign.

Two hundred and fifty Rush county Republicans and boosters for James E. Watson were not to be denied the trip to Indianapolis today to attend the love feast simply because the I. & C. was not operating cars and the entire crowd boarded the eleven o'clock C. I. & W. train. The Republicans from out over the county began arriving here early this morning and when it was learned that the traction company could not guarantee any cars there was great disappointment.

Then the entire crowd determined to make the trip on the railroad and take chances with getting back tonight. The train was well filled when it reached here and the Rush county delegation was compelled to stand. The baggage car was even filled with local people. It was announced that those who purchased tickets over the I. & C. could get their money refunded by calling on the person who sold the ticket. Persons holding tickets over the traction line were asked not to take them to the traction officials as the individual selling the tickets were responsible for the sale.

'Scientists discover the cause of bleeding gums and loose teeth

The old idea that bleeding gums and loose teeth (symptoms of pyorrhea) are due to little pieces of tartar or bone under the gums, has been exploded. Scientists have made the astounding discovery that this disease is caused by a germ which is found in every human mouth.

This germ is the most active and destructive enemy of your teeth. Are you protecting them against it? You can ward off its constant attack and escape the dread results of the disease by using the proper corrective and preventive treatment in your daily toilet.

To meet the need for this treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste.

Senreco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Senreco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Senreco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 25c two oz. tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Get Senreco at your druggists today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Sen-tanel Remedies Co., 506 Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

NEW POSE TAKEN BY PRESIDENT

Must Talked of "Isolation" Disappeared at Recent Luncheon Given Committeemen.

ALL WERE LITTLE SURPRISED

Attitude Betrays Narrowness of Political Mind—Overlooks Failures of His Party.

Washington, Dec. 30.—The luncheon which the Democratic National Committee enjoyed at the White House was the first hospitality of the kind which the President has ever shown to the organization of his party. Some of the committeemen, recalling this and knowing that a President may summon whomever he may wish to see to come to the White House, were a little surprised to hear Mr. Wilson emphasizing the "isolation" of his life at the Executive Mansion. And some of them reflected that his life had not been so excessively "isolated," after all.

The President was hardly less happy as he tried to talk slang to his guests. The Democratic National Committeemen are by no means finicky, and some of them admit to deficiencies in grammar and diction. But they look for something different in a President, and they cannot understand whether the President was trying to get himself down to what he thought to be their level or whether he is trying a new pose with which to follow the affection of "isolation" which cannot be much longer maintained.

However, the committeemen were politely responsive to the President's efforts. They relished the food and they tittered decorously when he spoke of getting things "off his chest" and when he said the Republicans are "talking through their hats." They maintained, also, the expected silence when he asked them if the Republicans had any issue except the tariff.

This question betrays a narrowness of political horizon which is incomprehensible here, and is regarded as proof of the care with which Tammany has guarded Mr. Wilson's life from the intrusion of newspaper and other criticism. While Republicans would be vastly content to fight next year's campaign on no other issue than the tariff, they are in fact, surrounded by an embarrassment of riches when they contemplate the manner in which the fight may be carried on. Mexico, foreign relations in general, the Treasury deficit, the extravagance of Congress, the bungling of legislation, the demoralization of the public service, the evasive attitude regarding preparedness, the socialistic ship purchase bill—these and scores of other errors, failures and disasters will be made a source of attack upon the Administration when it seeks an endorsement at the polls.

Mr. Wilson once said that his is "a single-track mind," and he never gave better evidence of it than when he asked this question.

Rushville Astonished By Simple Mixture

Rushville people are astonished at the INSTANT action of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. ONE SPOONFUL removes such surprising foul matter it relieves almost ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. Because Adler-i-ka acts on BOTH lower and upper bowel, a few doses often relieve or prevent appendicitis. A short treatment helps chronic stomach trouble. F. E. Wolcott, druggist.

COMITADJIS TOUGHEST FIGHTERS IN WORLD

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Monastir, Servia, Dec. 2.—(By Mail)—Comitadjis are supposed to be the toughest killingest men in the Balkans, perhaps in the world. They're the border fighters of the various Balkan states; Texas rangers are gentle alongside them; Northwestern mounted police gentlemen. At last I've had a talk with a real live comitadji of the Servian breed. One part of his conversation went like this:

"We went up to a house the other night in which there were forty-two Bulgarian comitadjis. They fired at us and refused to surrender so one of us threw a bomb, just like this one—" holding out an iron box the size of a cake of soap—"and blew up the place. It killed twenty-eight and wounded the rest." Another part of his conversation ran:

"Did you read Tolstoy's prediction of this great war?" He pulled a soiled clipping from his pocket and read what Tolstoy had written in 1912—there would be a great war in Europe and a writing man from the north would arise and hold the world in his grip for the next ten years, after ending the war. "Do you know who I thought this great man might be? Roosevelt. He writes you know. But 1915 is almost over."

He was a man of contrasts, this Servian comitadji. With his rifle, his revolver, his bag of deadly bombs, each one of which could blow up a house, he talked to me about the dangers of typhus and other Servian diseases.

"I drink all the water that comes my way. It can't hurt me. I don't believe in sickness, you know. I'm a Christian scientist."

"Have you ever been in the United States?"

"Oh, yes. I've traveled everywhere."

He told me about the comitadjis he lived with.

"Comitadjis aren't regular soldiers," he said. "They're volunteers who guard the frontiers. A good many of them are men tired of everything else in life and who are too cowardly to commit suicide. For instance, in our company of twenty men there's a young fellow from Nish. Six years ago he fell in love with a girl there and she told him she would marry him if he would go to the States and bring back some money. So he went to Portland, Oregon and saved two thousand dollars in five years. That's a little fortune in Servia. He hurried back to Nish. When he reached home he found the girl had married. He spent all his money drinking in the cafes and when he was broke he joined the comitadjis. Fellows like him are tough fighters; they don't care what happens to them."

"What do comitadjis do in the great war?"

"Whatever the army doesn't do. Scouting, patrolling, entering villages before the army, and mountain and forest fighting. We have some good times, too. The other night we'd been on duty all day and when night came on it was raining. We were near a village where some Bulgarian comitadjis were supposed to be so a few of us went into the village while the others remained on the outskirts. Pretty soon we heard about fifty shots then the shooting stopped. We hustled into the town. We found that the patrol had killed nothing but one big sheep. That sheep was skinned in ten minutes. The fellows ran around for wood. Where they got it I don't know but before long we had a great big fire going and one of our fellows who used to be a cook in a Belgrade cafe stuck a pole through the sheep lengthwise and put it over the fire. In about an hour it was ready and with plenty of pepper and salt and black bread and coffee we had a better meal than I ever bought in New York. Then, about 11 o'clock we stretched out with full stomachs, with our big loaves of bread for pillows and I had the best sleep I've ever had in my life. Oh, we know how to make ourselves comfortable."

"I've seen some of these soldiers from England and France who are just coming to the Balkans pass some terrible nights just because they didn't know how to rough it. I was scouting for some English troops the other night. We'd been in the rain all day and late in the evening we had waded a creek up to our waists. Finally we reached the top of a hill and the commander ordered his men to 'halt.' It was nine o'clock. "Take off your kits and sleep where you stand," ordered the officer.

"Comitadjis wouldn't have done that. A comitadji officer would have stopped his men behind the hill, let them build a fire, kill a sheep somewhere and make coffee."

"Does Christian Science help you with the vermin?" I asked. "Well," he said, I pick them off like the others do. "Want to see a bomb?" He handed out a gunmetal colored object that looked like a small drinking cup with a screw top. "You unscrew the top," and he did so, "and find this brass tip, which you strike on the butt of your gun. That fires the fuse. You count seven slowly, then throw the thing."

"Where were you when the war broke out?" I asked. "Pittsburgh," said he, "I lived there for 15 years with my wife. Both of us used to write for the Slav papers. My name is Charles Proskewetz. We lived at 604 Chestnut street. The Slavs over there think your Declaration of Independence is the most wonderful thing in the world."

"This is my wife," he said simply, opening a card case and showing me a photograph of a pretty dark-eyed woman. There were withered flowers across the face of it.

"You left her in Pittsburgh?"

"Yes, a year ago, in the Slav cemetery there. Then I came over here and joined the comitadjis."

tically all Indiana industrial and corporation bonds are selling at a premium as against a few months ago. This could not be if business did not rest on a sure footing. Money here and everywhere is plentiful and is cheap. Rates on loans always influence securities. The handling of the loan to the entente powers show that money is in abundance and in this connection it might be added that the currency reform measure which is finishing its first year has greatly improved conditions in this country.

"Indiana farm products, live stock and grain, this last year piled up vast sums of money though certain losses were felt because of the hoof and mouth disease and because of crop deterioration. Farmers, however, have kept up their end of security trading and would not do so unless they were in pretty safe financial condition. Savings in all the banks are much in excess of a year ago and people do not save unless they earn, so this item must be taken as indicating thrift on the part of many. The Indiana bond market is not what it was a quarter of a century ago and year by year it is placing itself on stronger ground. In 1916 there will certainly be no permanent recession from present high prices. Indiana bond dealers have cause to be glad over the passing of the worst obstacles that confronted their business in the year 1915."

"There is no use of visiting a county unless you find out the sentiment there," he asserted. "When I go into a county I go to each town, talk with the people and try to meet as many as I can. In this way I come in personal touch with them and know just how they feel about the conditions."

Mr. Watson and several local K. of P. members went to Crothersville at 1 o'clock. Other Hermon lodge members will attend the secret session tonight which will be followed by a luncheon and smoker.

New Year's Greetings

WE desire to extend to the people of Rush County and surrounding territory our very sincere thanks for the generous support that has been given us during the year just closing, and to solicit a continuance of the same in the future. ¶ There is an atmosphere of good will and good cheer prevailing in our establishments which will find this expression in a greeting to you. ¶ At this season we are reminded of our pleasant business relations—of your many courtesies—of our own good will toward you. ¶ We have noticed a distinct and gratifying increase in the spirit of home trading during the past twelve months, with the result that the additional profits thus accruing to us will enable us to serve you even more acceptably and economically in 1916. ¶ We beg to assure you one and all that it will be our earnest desire to meet your every wish and requirement the coming year, and no act will be omitted to make it a year of economical trading for our friends and patrons. ¶ We extend to you the compliments of the season, with the wish that 1916 may be a year of happiness and prosperity for you.

FIRST ESTIMATES WERE TOO LOW

Damage From Sleet Exceeds First
Reports—Telephone Company
Suffers Heavy Loss

I. & C. NOT OPERATING CARS

Phone Service May Not be Normal
For Weeks as Many Poles And Wires Are Down

Damage from the sleet and snow of Wednesday night was even greater than first stated. First estimates of the damage were entirely too low and the loss to the city and county is the greatest in years. The local telephone company has not been hit so hard in recent years and it was stated by officials of the company that it might be a week before all of the lines were again in service.

Being cut off from the outside world resembled to some extent the flood days of 1913. This was especially true with the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction company. Poles and wires were down all the way from here to Indianapolis. No attempt was made to establish service this morning to Indianapolis. The company hoped to have cars running to Indianapolis by evening although nothing definite could be promised. Local services, as being maintained between here and Connersville.

The C. I. & W. maintained its service, but most of the trains were running behind their schedules. The other railroads operated trains today as usual and the train service was again about normal.

Wire service to the outside was almost completely demoralized. The telephone company was not yet able to get through to Indianapolis. A large force of workmen was employed on the long distance cables and it was believed some of the lines would be in working order by night. The telegraph company was more fortunate than the telephone company as it succeeded in getting service last night to some points.

Only one county line was in working order today. That was the line to Milroy, and the rest of the county exchanges were without service to Rushville. The city and county was exceedingly hard hit by this storm and the damage will run up into thousands of dollars.

The same conditions existed elsewhere in the state and especially in the surrounding counties. The I. & C. maintained only a local service between Shelbyville and Greensburg on the Shelbyville division. Telephone and wire trouble was reported from Connersville, Shelbyville and Newcastle.

CLAUDE L. POSTON IS DEAD

Relatives Receive Word of His Death in Denver, Colorado.

Word was received today of the death of Claude L. Poston in Denver, Col. Mr. Poston formerly lived here and was a son of the late Elias Poston of Noble township. He was well known here despite the fact that he left this city about twelve years ago. Mr. Poston visited here last summer. Mrs. Al Linville is a sister of Mr. Poston. His relatives here knew that he had been ill but did not know the exact extent of his sickness and because of this his death came as a surprise. He was 42 year old and the funeral will likely be held in Denver.

John O. Williams is suffering from a gripe.

MANY STREET LIGHTS OUT

Sleet Prevents Necessary Repairs as Pulleys Are Frozen.

As a result of the sleet a large number of street lights over the city are out of commission and numerous complaints have reached the water and light plant. Superintendent Mahan announced today that the lights would be repaired just as soon as the weather permitted. The pulleys holding the ropes by which the lights are raised and lowered are now frozen and it is impossible to get to the old lamps to replace them.

HEBER ALLEN DIES IN INDIANAPOLIS

Former Rushville Man Expires of Tuberculosis After Failure to Regain Health in West.

FUNERAL WILL BE ON FRIDAY

Heber Allen, age about 54 years, formerly a resident of this city, is dead at his home, 817 East Twenty-seventh street, Indianapolis, of tuberculosis and a complication of diseases. The funeral will be held at the home Friday afternoon at two o'clock and burial will take place in Crown Hill cemetery, Indianapolis. His death occurred at eight o'clock Tuesday morning and the news was received here today.

Mr. Allen left here two years ago last April and went to California for his health. When no improvement was noted, he returned to Indianapolis last January. He has been confined to his bed for the last year. Mr. Allen is survived by the widow and three daughters, the Misses Edna and Bess who live at home and Madge, of North Vernon.

For several years previous to his departure from Rushville, Mr. Allen was a city mail carrier. Before that he had been engaged most of his time as a printer, having been employed on both local newspapers. Mr. Allen was a Knight of Pythias and a member of the Presbyterian church. He was an accomplished musician and for years was a member of the Rushville band and local orchestra.

PENAL FARM SAVES MONEY FOR COUNTY

Cost of Transportation of Prisoners is Not as Great as Board
Bill in Jail.

TEN SENT FROM RUSH COUNTY

Since the state penal farm was opened for prisoners Rush county has sent ten men there to serve sentences and in so doing it is believed that the county was saved a large sum of money as the county did not have to pay board for them at the county jail. This is especially true of prisoners sentenced to long terms.

The sheriff receives forty cents a day for boarding prisoners and as it costs $10.56 a trip to the penal farm for taking them there the county saves money on the transaction. The board and keep of the prisoners at the penal farm is paid by the state. The sheriff is allowed four cents a mile for himself and prisoner in making the trip to the farm and as the total cost to Rush county so far have amounted to $105.60 it is generally believed that Rush county has made money the past year by having the farm in operation.

IS OPTIMISTIC OVER OUTLOOK

James E. Watson, While in Seymour
Says he Has Encouraging Reports of Candidacy.

HE PREDICTS G. O. P. VICTORY

Says it Will be in Nature of a Landslide For Many Democrats
Will Help it Along

While in Seymour one day this week on the way to Crothersville to address a Knights of Pythias meeting, James E. Watson discussed politics briefly with a few friends and told them that he was certain that the Republican party would enjoy a sweeping victory in the election next November. His visit to Seymour was reported in the Seymour Republican as follows:

Soon after Mr. Watson reached the city he was surrounded by friends who were anxious to greet him. Although his mission to Jackson county today was not political, he was soon answering questions pertaining to the Indiana political situation.

That the Republican victory next spring will be a landslide was the prediction of the former congressman. "Everywhere I go I hear it," said Mr. Watson. He said that the Wilson administration had not been satisfactory to the Democrats themselves and he had been personally informed of hundreds of Democrats who would vote the Republican ticket in the next election.

In answer to a question concerning his own candidacy, Mr. Watson replied that he had received the most hopeful encouragement. He declared that he had not yet had time to visit all the counties in the state, but his friends were active in his behalf and he felt assured of success at the polls.

Mr. Watson talked at length concerning the new Indiana direct primary law and what it meant. He said that three bills had been presented at the last legislature and that at the final moments of the session paragraphs from all of them had been slapped together and approved by the legislature. As a result nobody knew exactly what the law meant and the public would have to await an interpretation by the Indiana supreme court. The law is now before that body and it has been intimated that a decision would be given on or before January 7.

The author of one part of the law, said Mr. Watson, placed one construction on the new law and his interpretation is questioned by another author. There is some question as to the significance of the preferential system of voting. Under the law first and second votes will be recorded if there are three candidates in the field. It is agreed that if any one candidate gets a majority he will be recognized as the candidate by the convention.

As to the value of the second choice votes there is a difference of opinion, said Mr. Watson. One construction is that they would be considered by the convention to ascertain the sentiment throughout the state in case no candidate is elected on first choice votes. Another view taken is that they must be considered in determining who gets the nomination in the primaries. The best lawyers in both parties in Indiana are unable to agree as to the meaning of the law, said Mr. Watson, and the decision of the supreme court is awaited.

Mr. Watson was optimistic about his candidacy. Before the primaries he intends to visit each of the ninety-two counties in the state.

VIEWS TREND WITH OPTIMISM

J. F. Wild, President of Indianapolis
Stock Exchange, Comments on Monetary Matters

INCREASE FOR 1916 IS SEEN

While War Decrease Buying at First, Investors Have Found Themselves, He Declares.

J. F. Wild, President of the Indianapolis Stock Exchange and the oldest bond dealer in Indiana, views with optimism the present trend in monetary and security matters and believes business in all lines will nose out a marked increase in the year 1916. In his judgment the hardest blow the Indiana investment market ever sustained was the reflection in America of the world war, but that this has been entirely discounted he declares is shown by the upward movement in trading during the closing months of 1915. Millions are invested in Indiana municipal, industrial and corporation stocks and bonds every year and while the first eight months of the war greatly reduced buying in the Indiana market, in common with movements in the several states, buyers have found themselves, Mr. Wild declares, and the present scant offerings of all Indiana investment dealers reflects the source buyers are pursuing.

"Any bond issuing corporation is like an individual in that it cannot incur only a certain indebtedness," Mr. Wild says, "and for that reason when so many of the bond producing municipalities have reached the limit prescribed by law they have to shut down until they have retired some outstanding bonds. In Indiana at this time any number of the municipalities are up to the limit and as a result of this not as many new bond issues are appearing in the market. This fact alone would make for better business. Coupled with it, however, is the constant increase in Indiana taxes. A conservative buyer of securities always inquires whether or not his bond or stock is exempted from taxation. So much agitation has attended the matter of taxes in Indiana and the rate is increasing year to year that it is no wonder that the buyer wants the law on his side and prefers not to take a chance with the tax ferret.

"Tax levying is one of the oldest and wisest methods of a state raising money. That it is far from a correct system is the claim of many who feel keenly its burden every year. Indiana perhaps should have some corrections to its present taxation plans, but as long as the law is as it stands now it is an unsafe policy to try to avoid it. The man who in years past has never differentiated between taxable and non-taxable issues will likely find it to his interest to watch this matter closely. Merely buying taxable securities and locking them in a safety deposit box and not listing them for taxes is no longer a wise or strictly honest policy to adopt. The plan is certain to get the owner in trouble sooner or later. The way to get taxes lower in Indiana certainly does not lie in tax dodging.

"Speaking directly of the movement of Indiana stocks and bonds during 1915 there is no question but that prices are generally on a higher plane than a year ago and there is nothing to warrant the belief that the crest of the movement has yet been reached. One year ago some of our municipalities were at a standstill on a much higher yielding rate than they are today and now they are not plentiful enough to fill the demand at the jump in prices. Price

ONE MORE DAY FOR SALOONS

Final Rush For "Wet" Goods is on in Colorado

(By United Press.)
Denver, Colo., Dec. 30.—Colorado's saloons and liquor stores, to be closed by law after tomorrow night, enjoyed great and final prosperity today. Customers were taking home supplies for the expected long dry spell. There were many joblot bargains of beer, wines and whiskies. After tomorrow liquor can be bought in Colorado only on a physician's prescription or imported for private home consumption. The state had 1600 saloons.
One of the saloon keepers forced to close up is the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company owned by John D. Rockefeller. Their mining camp saloons will be forced out with the rest.

DEATH COMES TO JEREMIAH HEANEY

Well Known Cigar Maker Succumbs at Madison Asylum Where he Had Been Past 6 Months.

FUNERAL FRIDAY MORNING

Jeremiah J. Heaney, 40 years old, a well known cigar maker of this city, died Tuesday night at the Madison asylum, where he had been for the past six months. News of his death was delayed because of wire trouble, occasioned by the storm of Wednesday night. Jerry Heaney had been in ill health for the past two years although his death came as a surprise to his relatives here.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Heaney, one brother, John Heaney and three sisters. Mrs. Nathan Horr, Mrs. Thomas Kirk and James C. Boyce of Fort Wayne. The remains will arrive here this evening and will be taken to the home of his mother, 618 West Third street.

The funeral services will be conducted Friday morning at nine o'clock at the St. Mary's Catholic church and burial will take place in Calvary cemetery.

TWO CANDIDATES OUT FOR SHERIFF

Ezekiel M. Jones and Rex Innis
Throw Their Hats in the Ring—
Others Expected.

PRIMARY TO FREE-FOR-ALL

Avowed candidates for county offices on the Republican ticket are now coming thick and fast. Two candidates for sheriff announced today. They were Ezekiel M. Jones of Ripley township and Rex Innis of Anderson township. Mr. Jones' announcement appears elsewhere in this issue of the Daily Republican. Mr. Innis was in the city today and told of his intentions by passing out candidate cards.

A large number of candidates have been mentioned for sheriff but thus far these two are the only avowed candidates. It is understood that J. K. Jameson and Noah Tryon will also enter the race and the fight for the nomination of sheriff promises to be a warm one.
Other candidates who have announced themselves are George B. Moore, Jr., who is a candidate for clerk of the circuit court, and Will McMillin, who would be the candidate for county auditor.

PROSPECTS FOR 1916 ARE BRIGHT

Year Which Will Soon Make Its Debut is Expected to Bring Much of Value to Rushville.

1915 SEES IMPROVEMENTS

Plans For Some Paved Streets and Erection of Many Residences
Makes it Eventful One.

The year 1915 has seen marked advancement in many lines in Rushville and prospects for the approaching year seem especially bright.

While there have not been so many new buildings and improvements in the business district, the improvement in this branch of activity has been steady and has revealed a healthy growth.

Outstanding among the expected developments of 1916 will be the remodeling of the north half of the old Commercial block into a modern and up-to-date business block. It was only a short time ago that George C. Wyatt & Company announced the purchase of the three business rooms in the old block. They will be fashioned into one of the most attractive business rooms in Rushville and will house one of the oldest firms in business here.

The year 1915 saw the beginning and near completion of the home of the Twentieth Century Dry Cleaners, a practically new firm composed of Mayor C. L. Bobout and Former County Commissioner Merrill Ball. The Twentieth Century Dry Cleaners organized a little less than two years ago and have built up a fine business. Since the inception of the business, it has been housed in a small building back of the Green building in Second street and in a room for pressing and repairing back of Belker's Shop. With the completion of the new building, which is being erected on the alley directly back of the Elks club, the concern will be under one roof. All of the equipment will be the most modern that can be purchased for that business. The Twentieth Century Dry Cleaners hope to be in their new home by February 1 at the latest.

Probably more marked advancement has been noted in the residence district of Rushville than in the business section. There has been more building activity in the Stewart & Tompkins addition than elsewhere, but at the same time many a vacant lot in the city that has been an eyesore to the neighborhood in which it was located has been converted into a beautiful home site.

There are now thirty-one houses in the Stewart & Tompkins addition. When Ben A. Cox completed his home in North Perkins street in that addition, there were just two other homes there, and one of them had been moved to that location. Mr. Cox's

The Rummage Sales

Christmas week is a week of energetic merchandising.

The stores find the busiest season over and another heavy buying period ahead.

And in the few days in between—the holidays—they must right stocks.

And in addition must provide the novelties desired at this season of the year.

So from every angle of observation the stores are most interesting places to visit.

And the best ones to see are described in the advertising columns of The Daily Republican.

UP-TO-NOW IN DESIGN

Designs as shown by some firms are more or less freakish or fadish to attract the attention of the prospective customers with scarcely a thought of their wearing appearance or correctness in proportion. But then they are merely on paper and represent but a small loss if they don't take.

We have faith in our ability as practical designers and as proof we show at our works a most complete selection of ready to erect monuments designed by our nationally recognized designer.

Internment Problem For German Subjects Is Solved by England
750 in The Camp

HAS MANY UNIQUE FEATURES

Brought About Following Sinking of Lusitania, Causing Riots And Other Disturbances

By WILBUR S. FORREST
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Dec. (By Mail)—When a German torpedo destroyed the Lusitania May 7, causing riots and the subsequent wholesale internment of enemy aliens, England kept its solution of difficult internment problem strictly secret. After seven months the United Press, is able today, through the courtesy of the War Office, to tell the story for the first time.

British leniency and German thoroughness have co-operated to make England's enemy internment business a positive success. Five London Bobbies and a few foot fence of American barbed wire guard 750 of the Kaiser's military eligibles at Islington, North London. Inside a great central building and auxiliary structures which in ante-bellum days composed a municipal refuge for the poor, is today a model system of self government where 750 "citizens" have worked out their own restricted salvation for the duration of the war.

Take note of the Germans you would meet on the streets of Milwaukee, St. Louis or Cincinnati and you would know the appearance of the personnel at Islington. Almost all these were business heads, clerks, bakers, butchers, barbers, cabinet-makers, bookbinders or tradesmen in London before the Lusitania riots. In May hundreds of them were bundled up and sent to Islington, away from harm and mischief.

The 750 were placed in charge of Major Halladay, who has seen service in India. He divided the internees into units of between 30 and 40 and instructed each group to elect its captain. The captains met and elected a Captain of Captains, a wealthy Prussian business man of London before the war. Presided over by this dignitary, a council of captains is held daily to adjudicate disputes, consider claims and administer business. If judgment of this body is unsatisfactory the case may be passed to Major Halladay.

The latest internee at Islington is a German merchant, enjoying an income of $125,000 a year. He was unable to secure one of the few private rooms reserved at $3.60 per week because other internees had taken them. He appealed to the council of captains. The democratic spirit of this unique tribunal asserted itself and the applicant was politely informed that his $3.60 was no better than anyone's in Islington's "Germany." He appealed to Major Halladay. The Major replied that he felt compelled to abide by the decision of the lower court.

The wealthy citizen was forced to occupy regulation quarters. These quarters, in the main building, are ample. They consist of high walled, well-ventilated rooms where from eight to fifteen sanitary couches are ranged along the walls. On each is a mattress, blankets and pillow. These together with general lavatories, washrooms and bathrooms on every floor, make this internment camp more like a well planned hotel. Large day rooms where visitors may be entertained, a commodious yard with a rain shelter, workshops, a tennis court, dining rooms and tea rooms, make it unnecessary for the men to occupy their sleeping quarters during daylight.

Afternoon tea is a daily event. Here is the routine: Arise at eight; breakfast at 8:30; work, study or diversion until noon (working is optional but hundreds are busy at various tasks under supervision of the Council of Captains: dinner at 12; work, of entertaining wives and children until five; tea with trimmings, 5 to 5:30; supper at 7; to bed at nine.

Other unique features are: Unrestricted smoking, except in wood-working shop, bi-monthly theatricals; a weekly paper printed in English; privilege of writing two letters each week in German, to Germany or elsewhere; opportunity of leaving the premises, under guard, for medical treatment, teetotalism.

All citizens of the Islington camp are married, hundreds of them to British wives. Each man is allowed to see his family once in 8 days for 30 minutes. When the United Press man arrived forty families were strolling about the enclosure. Many families live now near the camp of their husbands or brother. Every wife, if in want, receives a grant of $2.76 per week with an additional 36 cents for every child.

When an enemy alien reaches Islington he deposits his cash with the commandant and keeps $5 to $10. This pocket change circulates rapidly. A laundry, manned by internees furnishes clean linen at twelve cents a week. There is a four-chair barbershop where shaves cost four cents in the morning and two cents in the afternoon, on the systematic German version that it is worth more to be shaved up all day than half a day. A former delicatessen shop owner of Houndslow, sells genuine German liverwurst, and other Teuton palate ticklers; there are woodshops where experts, are making Christmas toys for their children. These child delights are not stamped Made in Germany, but they bear the stamp of perfect workmanship. Another shop turns out fancy toilet requisites for the wife's Christmas which she may sell. Another is making wood-inlay work. A large bakery daily turns out material and equipment.

The plan co-operation allows the government to feed the men at an average cost of 1.08 a week," said the commandant. "The food is wholesome and good. Our kitchen is manned by Germans who know how to cook and economize. Scores of our men are learning Spanish. German far sightedness tells them that England will not be the place for a German's business for some time after peace is declared. Many have told me they are going to South America. Not one man has attempted to escape."

The only essential that Islington's model community lacks is a dentist and he will be intended within a few days, drill, forceps, chair and all.

EXPECT SHEA WILL GET APPOINTMENT

Known That President Looks Favorably Upon Him For Ambassadorship to Chile.

NAME TO BE SENT TO SENATE

Hot Springs, Va., Dec. 30.—The pleasures of honeymooning have left President Wilson little time to consider the appointment of an ambassador to Chile but it is known that Judge Thomas Shea of the Indiana Appellate court has been spoken of favorably to the chief executive.

Before the president's departure on his wedding trip Senator Kern conferred with him and it is known that Judge Shea was suggested as a candidate for the Chilean post. No other Indian is in line for the job and it is generally believed by those close to the chief executive that his name will be sent to the senate.

Amusements

The Gem will show a two reel feature "The Mistle of Jerry McGuire" for the first picture tonight. It is one of the series of pictures in which Helen Holmes is featured. In this one she jumps from an automobile onto a moving train. It is said to be a sensational drama. The other picture is a comedy entitled "Cupid and the Scrub Lady." Alice Howell is featured. Tomorrow matinee and night "The Queen of Hearts," a three reel feature will be shown. Herbert Rawlinson, William Worthington and Anna Little are featured.

The Princess offers the big comedy "A Night at the Show" for the first picture of tonight's program. Charles Chaplin is featured and it is one of those famous comedies such as Chaplin makes. The other picture is a two act drama "The Woman in the Box." It tells a clever detective story.

"The Master Hand," featuring Nat C. Goodwin comes to the Princess Friday matinee and night. "The Master Hand" is based on the play of the same name by Carroll Fleming. Nat Goodwin is the "good angel" of the story—a big-hearted, benevolent man of affairs whose mission in life seems to straighten out other people's troubles and make them happy. Nat C. Goodwin has a strong and lovable part in the play. There are tremendously exciting scenes in Wall street; and the part of the sinister woman doctor is a decidedly strong one. Some very pleasing children's scenes lend bright relief to the drama. And a very big and handsome dog will surely be a favorite with the audience. The auto accident is strikingly realistic. Its powerful acting, its thrills, excitement, surprises and intense human interest will no doubt hold the attention to the last.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache, or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

To-morrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal. Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

Some said Grimes' Golden was the best eating, some said Roman Stem, others stoutly defended Vandiver and White Pippins. It was a dead lock.

We are authorized to announce the name of George B. Moore, Jr., as a candidate for Clerk on the Republican ticket, subject to the decision of the primary election, March 7, 1916.

County Auditor.

We are authorized to announce the name of Will H. McMillin, as a candidate for Auditor on the Republican ticket, subject to the decision of the primary election, March 7, 1916.

County Sheriff.

We are authorized to announce the name of Ezekiel M. Jones as a candidate for Sheriff on the Republican ticket, subject to the decision of the primary election, March 7, 1916.

Greetings
TO OUR FRIENDS
AND PATRONS:

In plain and simple language, and with each word pregnant with truth and sincerity, we offer you the compliments of the season and tender you our thanks for your goodness to us during the past year.

Your support has been generous to a degree, even beyond our fondest expectations, and your many kind words conveyed to us have been an inspiration and have served as an impetus in many weary hours of toil.

Again we greet you, and express the wish that the new year about to be born may be one of great prosperity, contentment and happiness to you and to those who are dear to you.

Problems of The Year

We are face to face with the problems of another year. It may bring us much or little, as we choose. The question is, what do we choose? In the parlance of the street, "it is up to us."

One thing we need is greater commercial activity. But how are we to promote it?

We need a closer community of interests between the farmer and his family and the town man and his family. In many ways each is dependent upon the good will of the other, but few of us seem to realize this.

In years past farmers have been shipping their products away to market in small quantities and realizing small profits while the rapacious middlemen have rolled in gold that should have found its way back to the farms. And the loss to the farmer is likewise a loss to the town and the community in general.

We should not permit another year to go by without remedying this glaring defect in our system. It can be done.

The business men of this town should all get together and devise some method whereby they can market the products of all of the farmers quickly, economically, and without the aid of so many hungry go-betweens. It may take a little brain work, and a trip or two to some central market in order to put the scheme into practical working order, but it can be done if it is undertaken in the right spirit.

When the business men look after the interests of the farmers in this respect the farmers will reciprocate by saving them the immense volume of their business that is now going to other sources.

An agricultural clearing house model, the new year should see movement on foot for its establishment, and the end of the year should see it in practical and successful working order and with everybody happy and satisfied.

Too many of us strangers to each other in this community, where we should all be brothers and dwell together in unity for the common good of all.

And that is because there are entirely too many hard and fast cliques and sets, with each immersed in its own shell and never a peep at the light of outer day.

We need a common ground for meeting, where neighbor greets neighbor and the stranger finds himself at home and among friends.

If co-operation is good in commercial affairs it would be of equal benefit in private and social life. It would afford us a more intimate knowledge of humanity and a broader prospective of life, and the resultant spirit of good fellowship would be felt in a thousand ways.

A year of "getting together" would stamp a wonderful imprint upon the heart, the soul and the conscience of this community.

We can materially benefit Rushville and our farming community if we begin right now to make it a year of production and prosperity.

It would be difficult to find one among us who could not in some manner increase the result of his labors during the coming year, and with each of us persevering to this end the year's profits would mount high in the financial column of local history.

While considering our own individual interests we might dwell also upon those of the community in which we dwell, for what is of value to all of the people is of equal value to us.

But we can without detriment, or inconvenience, or expense at least remember that we are all neighbors, and friends, and brothers, and so act one to the other, to the end that peace, harmony and happiness may be our lot for the coming year.

Severe Competition

P. L. Guiterman, of Guiterman, Rosenfeld & Co., New York, importers and exporters, returned from abroad recently. He advises American manufacturers and merchants who hope for a continuance of a large export trade when European war is over that they will be obliged to contend with severe competition on the part of Japanese producers, who are imitating German products and selling them at low prices in Russia, England, and other countries. "The Japanese manufacturers," says Mr. Guiterman, "have already been clever enough to get hold of any quantity of German samples in various lines, and they are imitating these exactly and offering them to England at prices, in many instances as low as, or even lower than formerly paid to German factories."

Investigations of the Chamberlain British tariff commission made a few years ago developed the fact that, on an average the wage scale in Japan and other oriental countries was one-sixth that of England. And the English wage scale is less than one-half that of England. And the English wage scale is less than one-half that of the United States. As two-thirds the cost of producing merchandise in the United States is paid to labor, what suggestion have our Democratic friends to make in regard to competing with a country whose wage scale is less than one-twelfth of our own?

What Will It Bring?

A New Year!

What will it bring to your country?

Will it bring us a continuation of that great peace which Providence has thus far bestowed upon us?

Will it blaze for us a highway through the network of entanglements which have drenched the soil of half the world with the life blood of thousands upon thousands of the most intelligent and enlightened peoples of all times?

Will there be a bright and shining star to lead us safely through the appalling perils that now beset the earth?

Or will the new year visit upon us the withering blight of war and pestilence, and famine and extermination?

Will the sweet music of the humming wheels of industry and the joyful notes of glad voices raised in song be replaced by the roar of cannon and the shriek of shells and the ominous boom and the groans of the maimed, and the mangled, and the dying?

Which will it be?

If we only knew!

Having ushered the 1916 infant into the world without mishap, we may now turn our attention to discarding the merits of the European folly.

May the new year bring you happiness, a full pocketbook, and a wife—if you haven't one. But in 1916 you may have no trouble on that score.

A contemporary says the day of the political grandstander and four-flusher is gone by. But the grandstander and the four-flusher still remain.

A defeated candidate can always console himself with the thought that "the people never know their own minds, anyway."

Chicago is making trousers for Europe. Let us hope it will not fall to the lot of the widows and orphans to use them.

Now that the wheels of industry are beginning to turn, perhaps those in our head will be given a rest.

What use has this country for heavy siege cannon? Haven't we got our "Uncle Jos?"

1916—Get it right.

Newspaper Comment on Watson Candidacy

No Man More Loyal.

(Greenfield Republican.)

No man in Indiana has been more loyal to his party than James E. Watson. He has met with disappointments, and has not always received what he has wanted, but he has never sulked, but has always been found in the thickest of the campaign fights, for the Republican party.

Well Qualified.

(Greenfield Republican.)

James E. Watson, of Rushville, who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, is a man every way qualified for the position. He is in the United States senate class. His name ranks well with the names of Benjamin Harrison, Oliver P. Morton, Charles W. Fairbanks and Albert J. Beveridge. He far outclasses John W. Kern, whom the Democrats will nominate. As senator he would represent Indiana in a noteworthy manner, that would reflect honor on the state. He is personally a most clever, congenial gentleman, and a campaigner with no superiors and only very few equals. No man in Indiana of any political party has done more for his party in the way of advocacy than he. He stands in the front rank of the advocates of a protective tariff, and he believes in the principles of the Republican party as he does in the flag and constitution of the United States. Clever as he is, able as he is, orthodox as he is, sponsor for Republican principles as he is, who can justly say aught against Mr. Watson's claim for the recognition he seeks at this time? Any Republican may owe obligations to some other candidate, and may properly support them, but he should not be against James E. Watson. Watson is too sound on Republican principles and too true a party man for Republicans to be against him.

Old Campaign Recalled.

(Greensburg Review.)

The coming of James E. Watson into Decatur county today recalls his first campaign here a little over twenty-one years ago when he beat Holman. By a peculiar coincidence Rush and Decatur county each gave Mr. Watson that election the same plurality—732. But Decatur county was so anxious to go ahead of Rush that it is said the returning board, Democrats and Republicans alike, agreed to change one figure that made Watson's majority 733 and putting our county one ahead of Rush. Watson's plurality in the district was 432. So each county could claim the honor of electing him.

HOOSIER HISTORY

(Prepared for the United Press by the Centennial Department of the Indiana Historical Commission.)

Morgan's Career in Indiana

With a dashing, reckless bravado, Morgan headed straight north from Corydon to Salem. Thence, northeast through Scott county to Vernon which he found prepared and which he dared not attack. Turning southeast into Jefferson county, his men appropriated the choice cuts of a meat packing establishment, whence the raiders made their way across the state line into Ohio, after almost a week of strenuous riding and fighting in Indiana. Two weeks later he was captured with the remnant of his command of some two hundred and fifty men on the eastern border of Ohio.

MOTORCYCLE CLUB

A number of the progressive young motorcycle riders of the city have organized a Motorcycle Club. Although they have had only a few meetings, plans are already organized for several long trips to be made next summer. The membership, though not complete now at present includes the following boys: Bruce Carr, Wilbur Snodgrass, Ray Dye, Morris Howe and Carl Major.

OPENS WAY FOR STRINGENT LAWS

Opinion on Taxation by Justice
Hughes of Supreme Court is Expected to Help States.

ON THE TAXATION QUESTION

Will Pave Path For States to Enact
More Drastic Laws Than Have Been Held Constitutional.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., Dec. 21.—What is a tax? Here is a little essay on taxation by Justice Charles E. Hughes of the United States Supreme court. He delivered it recently from the bench in a small case from Missouri—Houck vs. Little River Drainage district. It appears to open the way for the enactment of more drastic state taxation laws by states that have hitherto been held constitutional.

"A tax is an enforced contribution for the payment of public expenses. It is laid by some rule of apportionment according to which the person or property taxed share the public burden, and whether taxation operates upon all within the state, or upon those of a given class or locality, its essential nature is the same. The power of segregation for taxing purposes has everyday illustration in the experiences of local communities, the members of which by reason of their membership, or the owners of property within the bounds of their political subdivision, are compelled to bear the burdens both of the successes and of the failures of local administration. Then local improvement may be deemed to result in special benefits, a further classification may be made and special assessments imposed accordingly, but even in such cases there is no requirement of the Federal constitution that for every payment there must be an equal benefit. The State in its discretion may lay such assessments in proportion to position, frontage, area, market value or to benefits estimated by commissioners. And as we have said, unless the exaction is a flagrant abuse, and by reason of its arbitrary character is mere confiscation of property, it can not be maintained that the state has exceeded its taxing power."

TODAY'S HOOSIER ODDITY

Hartford City, Dec. 30.—"Never look a gift horse in the mouth," said Otis Holmes, local drayman, as he prepared to retire from active business here. Holmes was at one time the janitor of a big office building here. A lawyer in the building jokingly offered him one thousand shares of mining stock considered worthless then, as a Christmas present. He accepted the shares and had them legally transferred. A few days ago he received a letter from the attorneys saying the stock was valued at $10,000.

CIVILIAN POPULATION BEING SHOCKED TO DEATH

By WILBUR S. FORBES

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Nov. 30. (By Mail.)

Ravages of war on Great Britain's peaceful civilian population sums up 77,000 fewer babies and more than 50,000 additional deaths as compared with the peaceful year of 1913, according to statistics available today. Seventeen thousand fewer babies than in 1913 have been born in the County of London. In Greater London, which includes contiguous suburbs, there is a birth decrease of 25,000 within the year while 15,000 more civilians than normally have died. London's outer rings, which includes cities not properly termed suburbs, has had 8,000 fewer infants and 5,000 more deaths than in 1913. Birmingham, Liverpool, Manchester, Sheffield, Dublin, Edinburgh and Glasgow also are affected. In addition to the babies unborn, the United Kingdom's frightful infant mortality, indirectly due to the war, is mounting. Public efforts have been instituted to combat the latter condition, but the fall in the birth rate is regarded as an evil directly attributable to the general devastating influence of war. The excess of civilian mortality is ascribed by the medical authorities to the excitement of the war and resultant consumption, cerebral hemorrhage and heart disease, principally the latter, superinduced by worry and shock. The majority of civilian war victims is persons more than fifty years of age. Four hundred such deaths occurred in London during the single week ending November 20. Figures on the birth and mortality rates in Berlin, the next greatest European war city, show that the German capital is losing civilians at the rate of 400 a week. The birth rate is more than 400 less a week than normally. Hamburg, Cologne, Breslau and other German cities also are suffering natural death far in excess of the birth rate. Vienna reports indicate that the Austrian capital is losing 400 citizens a week, either through death or non-existent maternity. Births in Paris are about 390 a week as against 800 normally. The weekly civilian death rate has not been officially computed. What all belligerent nations and cities have suffered in civilian citizenship losses proportionately, out of the estimated 9,000,000 military casualties of the world war to date, can be accurately estimated only after peace is declared.

Notice of Non-Resident.

The State of Indiana, Rush County, In the Rush Circuit Court, November Term, 1915.

Now comes the plaintiffs, by Goddard & Craig and Young & Young, their attorneys, and file their complaint herein, together with an affidavit by Sylvester C. Kirkpatrick that said defendant, Mergenthaler Linotype Company of New York City, New York, is not a resident of the State of Indiana; that said action is for Foreclosure of Chattel Mortgage and for Receiver, and that said non-resident defendant is a necessary party thereto.

Notice is therefore hereby given said defendant, last named, that unless it be and appear on the 67th judicial day of the November term of the Rush Circuit Court to be holden on the 5th Monday of January, A. D. 1916, at the court house in Rushville in said county and state, and answer or demur to said complaint, the same will be heard and determined in its absence.

Witness my hand and the Seal of said Court, at Rushville, this 9th day of December, A. D. 1915.

PROSPECTS FOR 1916 ARE BRIGHT

home was completed July 22, 1912 and since that time new and modern homes have been completed very fast. There were more built during the year just closing than any year previous, which has caused that section of the city to become most desirable. Several blocks of cement walks have already been installed in the addition and many more are planned. In the spring cement streets will be built in Perkins street above eleventh.

In this connection, it should be remembered that the year just about to make its exit witnessed the beginning of plans to pave First street. Engineers plans and specifications have been prepared and activity along this line may be expected just as soon as spring weather opens. First street probably needs paving worse than any street in Rushville because of the condition of the street and because of the heavy travel to the railroad district of the city and from the country because First street joins the business section with one of the main trunk lines leading into Rushville.

Probably the most valuable addition to Rushville's public buildings during the year now closing was the Graham Annex school building. It is a structure that all people of Rushville and Rush county, for that matter, are proud of. It contains an up-to-date gymnasium and an auditorium that accommodates the needs of Rushville for public entertainments.

The are many things that progressive citizens of Rushville would like to see Rushville put in their stocking for next Christmas. There is none who would not like to see more paved streets, because they are more satisfactory and are cheaper in the end.

The need of a coliseum down town that would be suitable for all public gatherings has been felt here for years. It has been frequently suggested that the city erect a city hall housing a coliseum, it is the fervent hope of loyal residents of Rushville that something of this nature will see its inception in the year 1916.

The year 1916, it is earnestly hoped, may witness the beginning of the work to extend the Indianapolis & Cincinnati traction line from this city to Cincinnati. I has been reported recently that prospects for this improvement which means so much to Rushville and southeastern Rush county are exceedingly hopeful. More factories are among the things most desired of the year 1916. They are always acceptable and may be located by the united effort of Rushville business men working with the Chamber of Commerce organization.

A Carnegie library building to house the present, efficient Rushville library is one of the possibilities of the approaching year. There are those who have long desired an artistic building for the library, but the proper effort has never been put forth. It is advocated by many that a Carnegie library could be supported with little more cost and besides the building would be a valuable addition to Rushville's public structures.

A big centennial celebration during the coming year is another of the things for which Rushville will undoubtedly extend herself. The coming year will mark the century mark in the life of Indiana and a celebration by counties is one of the things in the plan of observance.

Another improvement that 1916 will bring is the conversion of the Graham Annex into sort of a community center. Plans are being prepared to keep the gymnasium open at nights and arrange for gymnasium classes. The new auditorium in the Graham Annex is a valuable addition to the community's social life and will be the scene of many local entertainments during the year. The installation of a moving picture machine in the auditorium will be held here for the first time in 1916 and the various forces interested in it will combine to make it a success. A big farmers' banquet, another new thing here, will take place Wednesday evening, January 26, and an event of some importance to the community will be held on that date.

Stomach Misery Quickly Vanishes

Your money back if you want it is the way in which Johnson's Drug Store the popular druggist are selling Mi-on-a, the great dyspepsia remedy.

This is an unusual plan, but Mi-on-a has so much merit and is so almost invariably successful in relieving all forms of indigestion that they run but little risk in selling under a guarantee of this kind.

Do not be miserable or make your friends miserable with your dyspepsia. Mi-on-a will help you. If it doesn't tell Johnson's Drug Store you want your money back and he will cheerfully refund it.

A change for the better will be seen from the first few doses of Mi-on-a and its continued use will soon start you on the road to perfect digestion and enjoyment of food.

Mi-on-a has been so uniformly successful that every box is sold under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. What fairer proposition could be made?

Johnson's Drug Store give their personal guarantee of "money back if you want it," with every box of Mi-on-a that they sell. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

Mrs. Link's Bible Class will have the regular meeting tomorrow afternoon.

The K. of P. dance scheduled for tonight has been postponed on account of the death of Heber Allen.

The Lotus Club will be entertained Monday by Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Reed at their home in North Main street.

A good program is insured at the stag party for the salesman of the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet Company, which will be given in Newcastle tonight, as Jess Pugh will entertain for the affair.

Among the guests at the party to be given in Shelbyville this evening by Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Conner will be W. R. Smith of Indianapolis who has been visiting in this city and Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Wamsley.

A delightful musical was given this afternoon by Mrs. A. L. Gary, Miss Grace Buell, and Miss Bertha Helm, at the home of Miss Helm. The same hostesses will entertain a number of their friends with a card party tomorrow afternoon.

John Brown and Mrs. Jane Bogue prominent elderly residents of Gwynneville, were united in marriage last evening at Mr. Brown's home. Mr. Brown is a veteran of the civil war and is seventy-four; and his bride is fifty-nine.

A dainty and home-like dinner was given last evening by Mrs. L. C. Snodgrass in honor of the birthday of Mr. Snodgrass. The dining table was characterized by a lighted Christmas tree which adorned the center, and a splendid dinner was served by the hostess.

Now that Watch Night is coming Rushville is on the threshold of a group of parties, insuring pleasure for the participants as they watch the old year out and the new one in. Among the most pleasant of these will be the K. of C. dance and card party to be given in their hall tomorrow evening.

The Elks proved themselves to be royal hosts last evening when they entertained their wives and friends with a dance. About fifteen couples attended and among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Dickerson, of Lexington, Ky., Miss Freeman, of Liberty, and Mrs. Anna Moore, of Finley, Ohio. Mitchell's orchestra furnished the music.

Rushville Phi Deltis are loyally supporting the mid-winter meeting which is being held in Connersville today. A number of enthusiastic Phi Deltis are attending, and more will be among the dancers at the ball this evening. Among them will be Dale Fisher, Lester Coons, Robert Vredenburg, Harold Pearce, Clifford Gottman and Charles Sherman.

Mrs. Yocum's class of young women, the Loyal Daughters, and Rev. C. M. Yocum's class of young men, the Young Men's Circle, are looking forward with pleasure to the joint watch party they have planned for tomorrow evening to be given in the church parlors. A good dinner is promised at six-thirty when a pitch-in dinner will be served, after which games and a social time will be enjoyed.

Miss Alleine Budd, who is the guest of Miss Mary Bookwalter in Indianapolis, is busy attending some of the numerous holiday parties and festivities that are being given in the capital.

Posey Denning and Byron Coving leave tomorrow for Louisville, Ky., where they will attend the coming out party of Miss Margaret Wymond, which will be given at the Seelbach Hotel Friday evening. Miss Wymond, who has visited in this city is the grand niece of Mrs. Mea Smith, and will be a charming debutante.

LEAP YEAR PARTY

First of the leap year parties was the very pleasant one given last evening by the members of the Always Present Class of girls of the Main Street Christian Church for their gentlemen friends. "Pep" reigned supreme and the gay young people entered into the merry round of games with enthusiasm. Miss Charlotte Norris added to the social hour with several beautiful piano selections. The "beauty" contest resulted in Miss Marie Turner receiving a box of candy for being the prettiest girl present and Halbert Brown received one for being the handsomest man there. Sandwiches, hot chocolate, and wafers were served at the close of the evening. The hostesses and their guests were as follows: The Misses Wilna Beaver, who is the capable president of the class, Gertrude Wilkinson, Gladys Chadwick, Charlotte Norris, Laverne Davis, Leota Mull, Dean Thompson, Agnes and Esther Foster, Velvia Phillips, Mildred Wolters, Erema Offutt, Ruth Champion, Marie Turner, and Marion Humphrey, Paul Davidson, Harold Perkins, Halbert Brown, Wilbur Snodgrass, Verl Bebout, Herbert Walker, Frank Muire, Vernon Spivey, Edward Meridith, Parker Willy, Charles Frazier, and Morris Howell. The guests welcomed with great pleasure Miss Dean Thompson, a former member of the class, who has been in Indianapolis for an extended visit.

KAPPA SIGMA DANCE

The Kappa Sig dance given in Newcastle Tuesday evening was enjoyed by a number of dancers who are well known here. Miss Alleine Budd of this city was among them. The following account is from the Newcastle Courier:

One of the brilliant celebrations of holiday week was the Kappa Sigma Home Town dance Tuesday evening at the Moose hall. About thirty couples were in attendance and enjoyed one of the most delightful events of the winter. Gorgeous decorations lent a gala air to the holiday scene. The dominant note in the decorations was the fraternity colors, red, white, and green. The curtains were hung with overdrapes in the prevailing hues, and one corner of the room was transformed into a cozy bower with banks of greenery and red roses. On the walls hung artistic leather skins on which were emblazoned the fraternity emblems. The Schuman orchestra of Muncie furnished the music for a delightful program of dances. The programs were unusually clever. The cover was embossed with the fraternity crest and each dance was dedicated to a member of the organization. Out-of-city guests here for the affair were Misses Vivian Vestal of Anderson, Alleine Budd of Rushville, Messrs. Frank Brant, Willard Hughes of Hagerstown, Fred C. McAdams of Lafayette, George Dunn of Richmond and Glenn Woodward and Clyde Snoddy of Bloomington.

The local Kappa Sigmas are Messrs. George Jeffrey of the University of Virginia; Eugene Thompson, John Muller and William Marsh of Purdue University; Russell Strain of Wabash College; Don Mourer, Max Hutzell and James Boyd of the University of Michigan; Richard Beach and David H. Jennings of the University of Wisconsin; Karl Frederick, Dan Hess, Byron Post, William Loer and Claude Bolser of Indiana University.

HOUSE PARTY

The three charming girls of whom Rushville is justly proud who are attending the Huntington house party, as guests of Miss Lillian Bell, are the Misses Lois Reeves, Dorothy Mulno, and Dorothy Sparks. The following clippings from the Huntington Herald Dispatch show that they are being royally entertained by the friends of their hostess:

Miss Fay Donith and Miss Marjorie Candiff will honor Miss Lillian Bell and trio of charming guests with a dinner party this evening at the home of Miss Candiff with covers laid for sixteen.

Miss Mabel Adams will be one of the week's pleasant hostesses entertaining on Thursday afternoon a party of friends for the pictures.

Miss Margaret Moore and Miss Lois Olmsted have issued verbal in-itations for a tea on Friday afternoon at the home of Miss Moore, in Sixth street, which will add a delightful feature to the week's social affairs.

As an aftermath to the pleasant tea given on Monday afternoon, Miss Lillian Bell, with her guests, Miss Dorothy Mulno, Mr. Dennis Richardson, Miss Lois Reeves, Mr. Ivan Mynes, Miss Dorothy Sparks, Mr. Fred Temple and Bradley Workman spent the evening at the moving pictures.

Miss Alene Stevens added another courtesy for Miss Lillian Bell and guests, entertaining a delightful party for the moving pictures, which was followed by a prettily appointed luncheon, served later at her home, on Tuesday evening. The invitation list included Miss Bell, Frank McAlhatten, Miss Dorothy Sparks, Howard Hawkins, Miss Lois Reeves, Dayton Carter.

SPARKS-EUBANK DINNER

The holiday week is always filled to overflowing with dances, dinners, and parties, but this one has been especially so. Prominent in the week's festivities, are the college students, home from their various universities for the holidays. The dinner last evening was composed largely of these home-corners, when complimentary to her house guest, Miss Rosaline Gant, of Greenfield, Miss Marian Sparks, assisted by Miss Ramona Eubank entertained in a most charming manner.

The cheery Christmas decorations and the warm welcome fairly reflected the holiday spirit in the Sparks home. The center of the dining table was adorned with a graceful fern around the base of which green crepe paper was tied with a red satin ribbon. Tall, slender mahogany candle sticks held the numerous Christmas candles, shaded by their artistic shades, which were also on the table. Beneath these, and the water glasses, were dainty green doilies. The handsome electric dome above the table was shaded by green shades and draped gracefully with green paper. A bow of satin ribbons, representing the college colors of the girl whose place they marked, were tied in the corner of each of the dainty little place cards, painted to suggest the Yuletide. Three courses were served in the appetizing dinner.

An impromptu program was furnished by the guests after the dinner. Miss Gertrude Green, who is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Green from Indianapolis, showed her marked ability in reading by giving several selections. "The Mule Story," "He Wasn't Necessary," and "The Egyptian Vase," all were enjoyed and appreciated by guests. The solos sung by Miss Marian Scholl, and the piano solos by the Misses Jean McClanahan, Gladys Wallace, and Ruth Innis helped to make the evening a merry one.

Aside from the two hostesses, eleven guests were present including the Misses Mary Carr, Gladys Wallace, Dorothy Thomas, Marguerite Wolcott, Gladys Green, of Indianapolis, Rosaline Gant, of Greenfield, Beatrice Reeves, Ruth Innis, Madeline Lord, of Seford, Del., Marian Scholl, and Jean McClanahan.

Scientists discover the cause of bleeding gums and loose teeth

The old idea that bleeding gums and loose teeth (symptoms of pyorrhea) are due to little pieces of tartar or bone under the gums, has been exploded. Scientists have made the astounding discovery that this disease is caused by a germ which is found in every human mouth.

This germ is the most active and destructive enemy of your teeth. Are you protecting them against it? You can ward off its constant attack and escape the dread results of the disease by using the proper corrective and preventive treatment in your daily toilet.

To meet the need for this treatment, and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Seneco Tooth Paste. Seneco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Seneco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Seneco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 25c two oz. tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Get Seneco at your druggists today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Senecol Remedies Co., 506 Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

LARGE DELEGATION GOES TO LOVE FEAST

250 Rush County Republicans Are Denied Trip and Take Train to Indianapolis.

CHANGE PLANS THIS MORNING

FAIRBANKS MENTIONED.

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 30.—Charles W. Fairbanks was put into the presidential race by Indiana Republicans at the love feast here today. Thousands gathered from all parts of the state. Edward P. Morrow of Kentucky put Fairbanks' name up and a great demonstration followed. Mr. Fairbanks responded with a five-minute speech in which he urged not only national military preparedness but industrial preparedness as a step toward world trade. He predicted Republican success in the coming campaign.

Two hundred and fifty Rush county Republicans and boosters for James E. Watson were not to be denied the trip to Indianapolis today to attend the love feast, simply because the I. & C. was not operating cars and the entire crowd boarded the eleven o'clock C. & W. train. The Republicans from out over the county began arriving here early this morning and when it was learned that the traction company could not guarantee any cars there was great disappointment.

Then the entire crowd determined to make the trip on the railroad and take chances with getting back tonight. The train was well filled when it reached here and the Rush county delegation was compelled to stand. The baggage car was even filled with local people. It was announced that those who purchased tickets over the I. & C. could get their money refunded by calling on the person who sold the ticket. Persons holding tickets over the traction line were asked not to take them to the traction officials as the individual selling the tickets were responsible for the sale.

GOVERNOR DIES.

(By United Press.) Clinton, La., Dec. 30.—Governor Hammond of Minnesota dropped dead here today while inspecting some of his farm lands. Death was due to heart failure.

Bad Stomach Trouble

Yields to Delicious Vinol.

Shreveport, La.,—I had a bad stomach trouble for years and became so weak I could hardly walk or do any work. My appetite was poor, my food would not digest, I bloated and was very weak and nervous. I tried many remedies without help. I saw Vinol advertised and tried it, and now my stomach trouble is completely cured and I am well." E. L. Marshall.

Vinol is guaranteed to tone up the tired, over-taxed, and weakened nerves of the stomach and create strength. J. B. Johnson & Co. Druggists, Rushville, Indiana.

New Year's Greetings.

WE desire to extend to the people of Rush County and surrounding territory our very sincere thanks for the generous support that has been given us during the year just closing, and to solicit a continuance of the same in the future. ¶ There is an atmosphere of good will and good cheer prevailing in our establishments which will find this expression in a greeting to you. ¶ At this season we are reminded of our pleasant business relations—of your many courtesies—of our own good will toward you. ¶ We have noticed a distinct and gratifying increase in the spirit of home trading during the past twelve months, with the result that the additional profits thus accruing to us will enable us to serve you even more acceptably and economically in 1916. ¶ We beg to assure you one and all that it will be our earnest desire to meet your every wish and requirement the coming year, and no act will be omitted to make it a year of economical trading for our friends and patrons. ¶ We extend to you the compliments of the season, with the wish that 1916 may be a year of happiness and prosperity for you.
